HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 1, 1919.

The House met at 11.00 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

"O Thou, in whom we live and move and have our being, accept our unfeigned thanks, we beseech Thee, for all the goodness that Thou hast so signally showered down upon us, and grant unto us that the true spirit of gratitude may be upon us at all times and in all places. May the gracious hand that gave also see fit to guide and direct that our blessings become, not a curse and burden unto us and that a by-word because of our inappreciation. We beseech Thee, that Thou wilt help us to be ever mindful that every privilege brings with it a responsibility; and we further pray Thee that Thou wilt so lead, guide and direct us, that these blessings for which we must give answer to Thee, as entrusted talent, may not find us wanting in the least. Keep us from sin peculiar in prosperity, from laziness, luxuriousness and licentiousness, that we become not whitened sepulchres. Rather make us a virile, live, active, nation, conscious that Thou hast blessed us, conscious that we must serve our day and generation and help us to hand down to posterity a name untarnished and a spirit unblemished because of these blessings. Guide, purify, direct and help to sustain us in every condition of life. Amen."

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 769, entitled

An Act fixing the penalty for murder of the first degree and vesting certain discretionary powers in the court and in the jury in connection therewith.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, the bill which we are about to consider at this time, is an extremely short bill, so far as words are concerned, but there is a mighty big principle involved in this bill which we should consider very carefully before voting upon it. This bill, as you will notice, provides that where any person is convicted of the crime of murder of the first degree, his aiders, abettors and counsellors shall be sentenced to suffer death in the manner provided by law, or to undergo imprisonment for life. The jury trying the case shall fix the penalty by its verdict, and the court shall impose the penalty so fixed as in other cases. In case of a plea of guilty the court, where it determines the crime to be murder of the first degree, shall in its discretion impose sentence of death or imprisonment for life.

Under our present law the crime of homicide is divided into degrees. This is done by statute, and the statute also fixes definitely the punishment for the various degrees of the crime. The jury, under the present system, has absolutely nothing to do with the imposition of the punishment for the crime. That is fixed by statute. When a jury is selected their duty is not to determine the penalty, but to take the facts as they are presented to them by the witnesses called on the part of the Commonwealth and by the defense. They weigh that evidence, and they render their verdict according to the facts that they have gleaned from the evidence presented to them. If they are satisfied that the defendant is guilty of murder of the first degree, they render such a verdict. The punishment incident to that verdict they have nothing whatever to do with. That is prescribed by statute. Under the present bill, which is before the House at this time, the purpose is not only to put the duty upon the jury of taking this evidence as presented and determining under which class of guilt the defendant shall be placed, but it also puts the additional burden upon the jury of saying what punishment shall be imposed upon the defendant. Under our present law anyone familiar with criminal practice knows and realizes that it is a mighty difficult job to get a jury in a murder case. Men do not want to sit upon such a jury. They do not want to assume the responsibility of even determining in which class this man shall be classed, whether in the first degree, second degree or a lower degree of guilt. They do not want to assume this responsibility, I say. Men will shun such a duty at every opportunity. If we change our law and put an additional burden upon these men of not only determining the guilt but also prescribing the penalty, it will make it just so much more difficult to get a jury in such cases. It is unfair, gentlemen, not only to the jurors who are selected for such a duty, but it is likewise unfair from the standpoint of the defendant. You can readily see how one man may be found guilty of murder in the first degree, and the jury that tries this man and hears the evidence will find him guilty of such a crime, but in imposing the sentence they will recommend that he be imprisoned for life. Another man may be found guilty and may not in fact be as guilty or as guilty of as great a crime as the first man to whom I referred ,but he may be unfortunate enough to be tried by a jury that would recommend that he be electrocuted. I tell you, gentlemen, it is a mighty serious thing to say whether a man shall live or die. It is a duty which should not be put upon a jury, and it should not be placed upon a judge. In this bill, you will notice in the latter part, if a defendant enters a plea, the judge shall determine in what degree the defendant is guilty, and if he determines he is guilty of murder in the first degree, he shall determine what the punishment shall be. I say this is unfair to the trial judge or any judge before whom such a plea is taken. I do not think we should impose impossible and impracticable burdens under such a system which are not workable in actual practice.

I say this is unfair to the jurors, it is unfair to the defendants, and it is unfair to the trial judge, or the judge before whom the plea is taken. The burden of determining the great question of whether a man shall suffer the penalty of death for any crime should be a matter decided and determined definitely by the Legislature or the government-making body of any state or nation; it should not be left indiscriminately for the juryman or judge who may be called upon to try the defendant for the crime for which he is charged. I hope the members of this House will consider this bill very carefully. I think if you will give it a second thought that the burden and the duties which it imposes are too great for any juror to be asked to assume and to be responsible for, and I hope when this bill is called for final passage we will not make the mistake of passing this bill and imposing duties that are impracticable and unjust, but vote it down as I think it should be.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I do not agree with my friend from Beaver (Mr. Marshall) that this bill will put a considerable burden on the juryman. This bill will relieve him in many instances from the burden he has at the present time, because now when the juryman says "murder in the first degree," he says with that verdict the defendant shall be executed. In this instance, with this bill, it relieves the juryman in many instances because it permits him to say that the defendant shall be sentenced for life. I guarantee that, with this bill on our statute books, there will be many more convictions for first degree murder than heretofore. It has been tried in many states, and I am sure in every state where it has been tried they would not return to the old law. I have in mind at the present time two cases of murder where under the law there was nothing left for the jury to do, under the law and evidence, but to find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. And yet, in each of those instances, there were extenuating circumstances where the defendent should not have been executed, and with this bill on the statute books the jury could have said that the defendent be sentenced for life. This surely is a humane measure, it is surely an act in the right direction, and it is an act where it has been tried in many states in this Union they will never return to the old law as we now have it. I am heartily in favor of this bill, and I hope this House will vote for it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1005 (Senate Bill No. 464), as follows:

A Joint Resolution authorizing action by the authorities of this Commonwealth to prevent discrimination against the citizens of this Commonwealth in the use of natural gas which would result from the law recently enacted by the State of West Virginia

Whereas There are millions of domestic and hundreds of industrial consumers of natural gas citizens of this Commonwealth who have expended enormous sums of money to equip their houses and plants respectively with appliances adapted for burning this fuel and to restrict and diminish the supply to any considerable extent would affect the domestic consumers in their health their comfort their convenience and their welfare would subject them to enormous property losses in rendering useless their present appliances and necessitating the substitution of others in many cases requiring the reconstruction of dwellings while the industrial consumers if thus restricted and the supply of gas greatly diminished would not only suffer great loss but be placed at a disadvantage in competition with manufacturers in other States where by law an adequate supply was provided

And Whereas Citizens of this Commonwealth have invested hundreds of millions of dollars in the exploration for and the development of natural gas wells and fields in the State of West Virginia and in the installation of transportation systems for the transmission of the gas thus found from West Virginia into Pennsylvania in order to obtain a supply for its citizens and to this end have made contracts and entered into obligations with cities and boroughs as well as with industrial plants and others and

Whereas The citizens of said cities and boroughs and the owners of said industrial plants and others are to a large extent dependent upon and have relied for their supply upon the gas transported from the State of West Virginia into the State of Pennsylvania the natural gas available from other sections being wholly inadequate a large proportion of said gas now consumed in Pennsylvania coming from West Virginia and

Whereas In order to restrain and restrict the transmission of this gas from West Virginia into Pennsylvania and to discriminate against the citizens of Pennsylvania and in favor of the citizens of West Virginia and State of West Virginia on the seventeenth day of February one thousand nine hundred and nineteen did enact a law the effect whereof is that the gas produced in said State should be first applied to the full satisfaction of all the domestic industrial and other demands of the citizens of that State before any therof could be transmitted into Pennsylvania thus disregarding the rights of citizens of Pennsylvania and the obligations of their contracts and

Whereas By cumulative fines and penalties civil and criminal said law of West Virginia is designed to deter parties engaged in the production and transmission of natural gas in West Virginia into Pennsylvania from instituting legal proceedings to have tested and adjudicated the right of said State so to restrict and prevent the transmission of gas from West Virginia until after all of the demands of its citizens have been first adequately supplied and

Whereas The citizens of this State who will suffer in their health comfort convenience welfare and property by the enforcement of this law are without remedy or redress except through action by this Commonwealth and

Whereas The enforcement of said law of West Virginia would be in conflict with the Constitution of the United States which inhabits the placing of burdens and restraints upon interstate commerce and prevents laws impairing the obligation of contracts and

Whereas The framers of the Constitution of the United States by the provisions of said Constitution sought to prevent any State from husbanding and applying its natural resources solely for the benefit of its own citizens to the detriment and loss of the citizens of other States well knowing if this policy were pursued it would result in reprisals and all of the evils attendant thereon and vested in the Federal courts the power to prevent any State from entering upon any such course of conduct now therefore

Be it Resolved By the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the concurrence of the House of Representatives that the Attorney General be and he is hereby authorized and directed to institute such legal proceedings and do all other acts necessary to protect the rights and interests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of its citizens from any and all violation or infringement by the State of West Virginia or by any of its constituted authorities under or in pursuance of said law of West Virginia affecting or intended to affect consumers of natural gas in Pennsylvania.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION TO PLACE HOUSE BILL NO. 263 ON CALENDAR.

Mr. RORKE asked and received unanimous consent to offer a resolution, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Resolved, That House Bill No. 263, an amendment to the act of 1794, of this House, be placed upon the calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Judiciary Special Committee.

Mr. RORKE. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. RORKE. Mr. Speaker, there is one word only that I wish to say regarding the placing of this bill before the House. I wish to give my views regarding the Judiciary Special Committee which had this bill in charge. In the first place, the bill was offered in the House for the mere purpose of giving to the people of the State certain forms of amusement on Sunday evenings after 7.00 o'clock. Immediately upon it being so referred to the Judiciary Special Committee, a sub-committee of six persons was appointed to look after and see what views the people in the State had on this legislation. The Chairman of that committee—and I want to say it without any bias—dominated from the very first that committee, dominated by merely stating to men before the sub-committee was appointed that he was opposed to the bill—

The SPEAKER. If the Chair may interrupt the gentleman at this time, it is out of order to divulge on the floor of the House anything that occurred in the committee. The question is upon the adoption of the resolution here for the placing of the bill on the calendar, notwithstanding a negative recommendation, and the gentleman will kindly confine himself to the subject matter.

Mr. RORKE. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that this was an open meeting, and that there were present a number of people, including the paid lobbyists, who used their influence in the presence of that committee; that some of the members of that committee, with their narrow views, were dominated and influenced by the paid lobbyists, and the Chairman of that committee thought this legislation was of such class that the entire membership of this House should have their say whether this bill should be placed upon the calendar and not negatived by their narrow views. I merely want to ask the House as a whole, and I say that there were a number of members of that subcommittee that had views to express, and there were some forty-six or forty-eight labor organizations that had resolutions to present that were prevented from passing upon this subject, and upon that committee a number of men in committee voted in favor of this bill and a number of them voted negatively that feel they should have a right to be heard and express their opinion on the floor of this House. I would like the members to consider this matter thoroughly when the vote is taken regarding the placing of this bill on the calendar.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, I do not think it is right to attack this committee in this way on the floor of the House, and I feel that I have a right to defend the committee to this extent: That the committee was not affected or influenced in any weak or narrow way or in a biased way. I was one of the commitee, one of the subcommittee. I attended all the meetings and heard all the arguments and voted to negative this bill, and I did not do it because of any particular or small influence. I want to say that it was overwhelmingly negatived by that committee, after it had been openly discussed pro and con. I will say this, that the gentleman tried to get this matter delayed after we had had an agreement to hold the hearing at a stated time. We went right ahead and took an open vote, and the bill was overwhelmingly negatived when it came to a vote. There was nothing in the proceedings that was not open and above board.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the subcommittee I wish to state that in that committee I took a stand against this bill being reported negatively. I, as one of the members of the committee, believed that the sub-committee should have the right to put before the members of this House what we had gathered in the hearing in Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh.

I want to say, as a member of that committee, that threats were made to me personally in Pittsburgh, that if I would go into the committee and if I voted in favor of the bill, that they would see to it that they would send to my home-town and there notify the churches to take a stand against me in the coming election, that is, provided I decided to run. I want to say, my friends, that I have always opposed the smothering of bills in committee, and for that reason I voted for the bill to be brought before the House, that it could be properly placed here, and that the men who have accused the members of the sub-committee would have he right to go on record themselves. I did not believe it was fair to allow anyone to come into the sub-committee or the general committe rooms for the purpose of intimidating anybody's vote on this bill. It was unfair. They had been given their hearings in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Harrisburg.

I wish to state that labor has been injected into these arguments in the hearings. I want to say to you that labor has not taken any stand for or against this bill. Some local organizations, perhaps, have come to the front either for or against the bill, but I don't want it understood here that labor has taken a stand for or against it. The members of the House can take my word for it that labor does not ask you to vote for or against it. I want to be made clear on that, and in order that the sponsor of the bill may be given a chance to argue his point, I believe that the bill should be placed upon the calendar.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, as a member of that committee and of the sub-committee, I want to say to you that I voted in favor of reporting this bill to the floor of the House, and while I voted in favor of so reporting the bill, it does not mean that I am in favor of the bill. I am not in favor of it and will vote against it, but the actions of the sub-committee as reported would give the impression that we are favorable to this bill. For that reason I think it should be given to the House for consideration, in order that we may be placed on record as to how we stand.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to present at this time petitions from my constituency against this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state at this time that petitions must be filed with the Chief Clerk under the rules.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I want to call attention to the fact that at the beginning of this session the House took the stand that the majority of the committee would control the bill coming on the floor, keeping it in committee, or giving it a negative recommendation. The very same question is again involved. The evidence shows that the committee examined into the features of this bill and decided in full committee that it should be reported with a negative recommendation. The fact that there were lobbyists for and against the bill has nothing whatever to do with the question. As there has been no charges of accident, fraud or mistake against the chairman of this committee, I ask that the motion be voted down.

Mr. RORKE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say that bills have come to the floor of this House with a negative recommendation—one in particular, the Bolard Bill, which was defeated, reconsidered and passed by this House after having been negatively recommended by the committee. There have been a number of bills of such character. If a committee on legislation of this kind, with the small and narrow views of counties that have only one light, only one view, is permitted to stifle legislation which appeals to the masses, if they have it in their power to stifle legislation of this kind without reporting it to the House and allowing every man by his vote to express his opinion and go on record to his constituency, I say it is not fair play.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I can see no harm in a member who is sponsor for a measure attempting to place that bill upon the calendar over the negative recommendation of a committee. In this particular instance I do not believe it is a question as to whether the committee was influenced for or against the particular measure. But I think we are now at the very place where every member of this House desires to be, and that is to go upon record for or against the particular legislation. As the question before the House is, shall the bill be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the committee, and a roll call has been asked for, I think we can all register our feeling on this particular question by voting for or against the resolution to place the bill on the calendar, feeling that when we vote not to sustain the resolution we are registering our objection to the entire piece of legislation. Therefore, without prejudice, the gentlemen who desire to get the matter before the House further will all be in the position of satisfying themselves that they have done the proper thing and have had a chance to vote on the measure, even though it seems to be rather camouflaged. I think, Mr. Speaker, that without further consideration the roll should be called, and those who are actually against the bill can very conscientiously vote to sustain the negative report of the committee, and those who might be in favor of the legislation can very conscientiously vote to place the bill on the calendar, and that will give an expression of the entire House of Representatives.

Mr. FRANKLIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file the following remonstrance against the bill.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to file petitions opposing this bill.

The SPEAKER. The remonstrance and petitions will be noted in the proceedings and referred to the proper committee.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Rorke and Mr. Aron and were as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1919 — 123rd of the General Assembly

Vol. 5. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2, 1919. No. 32.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 2, 1919.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou great Head of us all, who hast declared that we are all members one of another, grant unto us that we may so find our place under Thee that each one shall lend his part to that great and beautiful part that Thou art playing for us; and let each one and every one so hold and esteem every man, women and child as of worthiness in Thy sight.

"Nothing useless is or low
Each in its place is best;
And that which seems but idle show
Strengthens and support the rest."

And grant, O God, that these men may have in mind always the entire State in all of its parts so that there shall be a consideration not only for the great and the high but also for the lowly and obscure and unknown. Make them, therefore, the defenders of those who have no defenders, and make them true knights in the highest sense of the word so that labor shall have its due reward, that the great middle class may be protected from oppression, and that those who are at the head of affairs may receive justice such as they are truly and rightly entitled to; and may that great brotherhood of men thus be brought about in each one esteeming the other higher than himself. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Goodnough, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 83:

An Act Making an appropriation to the Trustees of the State Hospital of Nanticoke, Luzerne County Pennsylvania.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the Senate has concurred.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce at this time that he is rather disappointed with the attendance of the members at to-day's session. There is a heavy calendar for to-day and the attendance is not satisfactory. In previous sessions of the Legislature it has been the custom at this season of the year to work through Thursday. It seems very difficult now to have a sufficiently large house, a quorum as it were, to do business even on Wednesday morning. If the members of this House contemplate an early adjournment, the Chair would suggest that the members be present while the Legislature is in session. It is not fair to the members from the western part of the State, who are compelled to be here practically the whole week, for the members to leave early on Tuesday or Tuesday night. This announcement might be conveyed to the members who are absent.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 854, as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That article fourteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such reveune and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended by adding thereto the following section

Section 1441 The court of common pleas of each county containing school districts of the third and fourth classes shall appoint a county attendance officer for such county for a term of four years at a monthly salary of not less than one hundred dollars during the calendar year and necessary traveling expenses to be paid by the county commissioners of the respective counties out of the county treasury Such county attendance officer shall be eligible for reappointment and may be removed from office by the appointing power for incompetency immorality or failure to perform his duties He shall have all the power and perform all the duties enumerated in sections one thousand four hundred thirty-two to one thousand four hundred thirty-eight inclusive of the act to which this is an amendment The jurisdiction of the county attendance officer shall extend only over school districts of the third and fourth classes and all local attendance officers provided for in sections one thousand four hundred thirty-two to one thousand four hundred thirty-eight of said act shall perform their duties subject to the general direction and control of the county attendance officer Such officer shall upon receiving a report from the county or assistant county superintendent district superintendent supervisor supervising principal teacher school director or citizen of the school district concerning the destruction or defacing of any school grounds buildings or property or from non-attendance of pupils as required by law or for incorrigibility or insubordination of any child while in the care of the teacher or for disturbance by any person at any public school gathering investigate such report and if found true and correct, shall cause the arrest of any such offenders and prosecute the same through the courts of justice The costs of any such legal proceedings shall be paid out of the treasury of the school district in which the offender resides The county commissioners of each county shall provide furnish and maintain fit and suitable office rooms at the county-seat for the use of the county attendance officer and shall also provide for the use of such attendance officer all necessary blanks stationery postage and all else that he may require for the necessary performance of his duties

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transscribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1004, as follows:

An Act authorizing county commissioners of certain counties to appoint county engineers and to fix their compensation and prescribing the duties of such engineers

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in all counties having a population of not less than one hundred thousand and not more than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants the county commissioners may appoint a competent civil engineer who shall be styled the county engineer Such engineer shall serve for a term of four years and shall receive such compensation as the county commissioners shall fix

Section 2 The county engineer so appointed shall prepare plans specifications and estimates of all engineering work undertaken by such county and shall whenever required furnish the commissioners with reports information or estimates on any such work and in general shall perform all such duties with reference to any county engineering work as the county commissioners may from time to time prescribe

Section 2 All laws or parts of laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor of this bill, I move that it be postponed for the present.

Mr. STOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 637, as follows:

An Act to amend sections one thousand one hundred and twenty-one and one thousand one hundred and thirty of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand one hundred and twenty-one of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" which as amended by an act approved the sixth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-seven) entitled "An Act to amend section eleven hundred and twenty-one of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith'" as amended reads as follows

"Section 1121 The annual salary of each county superintendent elected or appointed under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the State from appropriations made for this purpose or from the appropriations for the public schools and shall be fifteen dollars ($15.00) for each of the first one hundred schools within his jurisdiction at the time of his election and ten dollars ($10.00) for each such additional school Provided that the salary of a county superintendent shall not be les than two thousand dollars ($2,000) per annum nor more than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500.00) per annum but a convention of school directors assembled for the purpose of electing a county superintendent may vote him a salary greater than the amount he would receive by this act such increase to be paid in all cases out of the school fund apportioned to the school districts over which such county superintendent has supervision before the same is distributed The salaries of county superintendents shall be paid monthly" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1121 The annual salary of each county superintendent elected or appointed under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the State from appropriations made for this purpose or from the appropriations for the public schools and shall be fifteen dollars ($15.00) for each of the first one hundred schools within his jurisdiction at the time of his election and ten dollars ($10.00) for each such additional school Provided than two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) per annum nor more than twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500.00) per annum but a convention of school directors assembled for the purpose of electing a county superintendent may vote him a salary greater than the amount he would receive by this act such increase to be paid in all cases out of the school fund apportioned to the school districts over which such county superintendent has supervision before the same is distributed The salaries of county superintendents shall be paid monthly

In addition to the said salary each county superintendent shall receive annually the sum of five hundred dollars to be paid by the State as above provided for use as traveling expenses Such additional sum shall be payable annually in ten monthly installments beginning with the first day of September

Section 2 That section one thousand one hundred and thirty of said act which as amended by an act approved the sixth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-five) entitled "An Act to amend section eleven hundred and thirty of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith'" reads as follows

"Section 1130 The minimum salary of each assistant county superintendent shall be eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800.00) per year which shall be paid out of the State appropriation for public schools in such payments and manner as the county superintendents are paid The salaries of additional assistant county superintendents whose appointments may be authorized as herein provided shall be fixed by the convention of school directors which provides for their appointment and together with any additional salary granted by said convention to any required assistant county superintendent shall be paid from the school appropriation apportioned among the several school districts under the supervision of the county superintendent before the same is distributed The salaries of assistant county superintendent shall be paid monthly" is hereby amended to read as follows

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 281, as follows:

An Act to amend sections one two and three of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws ten hundred and twelve), entitled "An Act regulating the business of loaning money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities fixing the rate of interest and charges therefor requiring the licensing of lenders and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws ten hundred and twelve) entitled "An Act regulating the business of loaning money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities fixing the rates of interest and charges therefor requiring the licensing of lenders and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act" which reads as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after passage of this act it shall be lawful for any person partnership association or corporation within this Commonwealth who shall comply with the requirements of this act to loan money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities and charge and collect for the loan thereof interest and fees as hereinafter provided under the following conditions

(a) Any person or persons firm corporation or association applying for the same under oath and in the form prescribed by the Banking Commissioner and paying the sum of fifty ($50) dollars may in the discretion of the Banking Commissioner except as hereinafter provided obtain a license for carrying on the said business The said license shall be issued by the Banking Commissioner and shall expire the first day of June next following the date of its issuance but no abatement of said charge shall be made if licenses are issued for less than one year Every such license shall be renewed annually on the first day of June in each year No license shall be granted to any corporation unless and until such corporation shall in writing and in due form to be first approved by and filed by the Banking Commissioner appoint an agent resident in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon whom all judicial and other process or legal notice directed to such corporation may be served and in the case of the death removal from the Commonwealth or any legal disability or disqualification of any such agent service of such process or notice may be made upon the Banking Commissioner The said Commissioner shall have the power to reject any application for license if he is satisfied that the character and general fitness of the applicant or applicants is not such as to command the confidence of the community and to warrant the conclusion that the business will be honestly transacted in accordance with the intent and purpose of this act. The said Commissioner may revoke any license if the licensee shall violate any of the provisions of this act. Whenever such license is revoked said Commissioner shall not issue another to said licensee until the expiration of at least one year from the date of revocation of such license and not at all if such licensee shall have been convicted of a violation of this act under the supervision of section six (6) thereof In addition to said license fee said licensee shall pay for the examination by said Banking Commissioner as hereinafter provided Every such applicant shall execute and file a bond to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the penal sum of five thousand ($5,000) dollars with the Banking Commissioner to be approved by him for the faithful observance of all laws relating to such business Said bond shall be executed by a surety company authorized by the laws of Pennsylvania to transact business within the Commonwealth and such bond shall be renewed and refiled annually not later than the first day of June in each year

(b) The license shall state fully the name or names of the person or corporation and of every member of the firm or association authorized to do business thereunder and the location of the office or place of business in which the business is to be conducted and in the case of a corporation shall also state the date and place of its incorporation the names of its directors for the period for which the license is issued and the name and address of the agent as provided in section one (1) of this act Such license shall be kept posted in a conspicuous place in the office where the business is transacted No person persons firm corporation or association so licensed shall transact or solicit business under any other name or at any other office or place of business than that named in the license Not more than one office or place of business shall be maintained under the same license and no loans or advancements shall be made at any other place than that designated in the license But in case of a removal the Banking Commissioner may on application indorse thereon a transfer to the new place of business with the date of transfer and from the time of such indorsement the new place so designated shall be deemed the place designated in the license"

"(c) The Banking Commissioner shall either personally or by such person or persons as he may appoint for the purpose at least once a year and oftener if he deems it advisable investigate the business and affairs of every such licensee and for that purpose shall have free access to the vaults books and papers thereof and other sources of information with regard to the business of such licensee and shall ascertain the condition of the business and whether it has been transacted in accordance with the law Said Commissioner and every examiner appointed by him shall have authority to examine under oath or affirmation any person whose testimony relative to the business of any such licensee may be required on any such examination The cost of every such examination shall be paid by the licensee so examined and said Commissioner may maintain an action for the recovery of such costs in any Court of competent jurisdiction" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after the passage of this act it shall be lawful for any person persons partnership association or corporation within this Commonwealth who shall comply with the requirements of this act to loan money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities and charge and collect for the loan thereof interest as hereinafter provided under the following conditions

(a) Any person or persons firm corporation or association applying for the same under oath and in the form prescribed by the Banking Commissioner and paying the sum of fifty ($50) dollars may in the discretion of the Banking Commissioner except as hereinafter provided obtain a license for carrying on said business. (c) The Banking Commissioner shall either personally or by such person or persons as he may appoint for the purpose at least once a year and oftener if he deems it advisable investigate the business and affairs of every such licensee and for that purpose shall have free access to the vaults books and papers thereof and other sources of information with regard to the business of such licensee and shall ascertain the condition of the business and whether it has been transacted in accordance with the law Said Commissioner and every examiner appointed by him shall have authority to examine under oath or affirmation any person whose testimony relative to the business of any such licensee may be required on any such examination The cost of every such examination shall be paid by the licensee so examined and said Commissioner may maintain an action for the recovery of such costs in any Court of competent jurisdiction

Section 2. That section two of said act which reads as follows

"Section 2 Any person persons copartnership association or corporation who shall obtain a license in accordance with the provisions of section one of this act shall be entitled to loan money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities at his their or its place of business for which said license is issued and to charge the borrower thereof for its use or loan interest as follows Upon loans not exceeding one hundred ($100) dollars in amount not more than three (3) per centum per month upon loans exceeding one hundred ($100) dollars in amount and not exceeding three hundred ($300) dollars not more than two (2) per centum per month and in addition in any case in which the loan is made for a period of not less than four (4) months on sums not exceedling fifty ($50) dollars in amount an examination fee of not more than one ($1) dollar on sums exceeding fifty ($50) dollars an examination fee of not more than two ($2) dollars may be charged for examining the security offered or the credit and responsibility of the borrower No charge of any kind in addition to interest shall be made on a loan of less than fifteen ($15) dollars No charge in addition to the said interest and examination fee shall be exacted charged or collected"

"It shall not be lawful for said lender to divide or split up applications for loans under any pretext whatsoever so as to acquire or exact any other or greater charges than prescribed therein or to make any charges for renewals or extensions or for any transfers or changes of any loan or loans within four months of the date of the original loan Said licensee shall be entitled to charge for each renewal extension or transfer of any loan made after the expiration of four months from date of said loan a new examination fee as hereinbefore specified providing said renewal extension or transfer shall be for a period of not less than four months from date of making said renewal extension or transfer Interest shall not be payable in advance and shall be chargeable only upon unpaid balances The examination fee herein provided may be payable at the time of the making of the loan A licensee shall not be entitled to any examination fee or any charge whatsoever unless a loan is actually made If interest or charges in excess of those hereinbefore prescribed shall be received by any licensee the said licensee shall thereupon lose all his right to collect or receive the interest and charges allowed under this act and shall be entitled to recover from the borrower only the amount actually loaned together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum upon unpaid balances less any and all amounts already paid by the borrower on account of said loan either as principal or interest Any person borrowing money from any licensee under this act who shall be charged and pay any charges or interest in excess of those prescribed and allowed by the provisions of this act shall be entitled to recover back from the lender by action at law begun at any time within two years from the date of the last payment any and all sums of money so charged and paid in excess of the amount of the original loan together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum upon unpaid balances up to the date of final payment of said loan and in addition fifty ($50) dollars as a penalty to be paid to the borrower" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 Any person persons copartnership association or corporation who shall obtain a license in accordance with the provisions of section one of this act shall be entitled to loan money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities at his their or its place of business for which said license is issued and to charge the borrowers thereof for its use or loan interest at a rate not to exceed three and one-half (3½) per centum per month No fees fines or other charges either in addition to or as a part of the above specified interest shall be charged or collected under any pretext whatsoever

Interest shall not be payable in advance or compounded and shall be computed only on unpaid balances for the time that has elapsed at date of payment If interest in excess of that hereinbefore prescribed shall be received by any licensee the said licensee shall thereupon lose all his right to collect or receive the interest allowed under this act and shall be entitled to recover from the borrower only the amount actually loaned together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum upon unpaid balances less any and all amounts already paid by the borrower on account of said loan either as principal or interest Any person borrowing money from any licensee under this act who shall be charged and pay any interest in excess of that prescribed and allowed by the provisions of this act shall be entitled to recover back from the lender by action at law begun at any time within two years from the date of the last payment any and all sums of money so charged and paid in excess of the amount of the original loan together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum upon unpaid balances up to the date of final payment of said loan and in addition fifty ($50) dollars as a penalty to be paid to the borrower

Section 3 That section three of said act which reads as follows

"Section 3 A licensee making any loan under the terms of this act shall at the time of making such loan give to the borrower a receipt or card upon which shall be stated the date and amount actually loaned the amount of examination fee the amount and date of each payment thereon and the rate of interest charged On the back thereof or immediately attached thereto shall be printed in legible type in English a copy of section two (2) of this act" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 A licensee making any loan under the terms of this act shall at the time of making such loan give to the borrower a receipt or card upon which shall be stated the date and amount actually loaned the amount and date of each payment thereon and the rate of interest charged On the back thereof shall be printed in legible type in English a copy of section two (2) of this act

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. J. A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was handed to me by one of the employes in the Department of Banking that has this particular division of the work in charge. He informed me that under the present system the law provides for a charge of three per cent. a month for loans made by small loan brokers, and they are also permitted to charge the equivalent of two per cent. for the carrying out or completion of the loan. It has developed in the department that a great deal of difficulty is experienced in checking up these loans, or the extra percentage charged on these loans. So as a result legislation, known as the Uniform Act on this subject, has been passed by other states. The Banking Department suggests that the rate be increased from three to three and one-half per cent. with no charge at all for the other services, which now cost about two per cent. The purposes of this act have been approved, as I have already said, by a number of other states. I find among the correspondence which I have received from the representatives of banking departments in other states, a letter from the sponsor and father of the present law, the Honorable Edwin R. Cox, of this House. He has made a much greater study of the subject than I have, and I would appreciate it very much if he were to give to the House his facts on this subject.

Mr. COX. The proposed act attempts to clarify the act of 1915. What my friend from Philadelphia has told you in relation to an increase of rate of one-half per cent. is correct. Under the Act of 1915, an examination fee of one dollar was charged on all loans from the unscrupulous money lender. He was charging this on every loan irrespective of its time. The Banking Department claimed that this act was faulty to that extent. I had a long talk with the Commissioner of Banking of this State when this bill was introduced by my friend from Philadelphia, and it was his opinion that if we raised the rate one-half per cent. and cut out the examination fees we would have a much stronger act; and to back that up I have on my desk a number of letters from the different banking departments throughout the United States where the same law is in effect, proving that the examination fees are not what they are cracked up to be when they get into the hands of unscrupulous money lenders. So I believe from the experience gained in other states that we are not making a mistake by permitting the small money lender to charge this half per cent. additional and cut out the examination fees. Our Banking Department says it can check more readily on flat rates than on the so-called examination fees which the unscrupulous money lender imposes upon the borrower. I would therefore suggest to this House that this bill be passed, as I think it is a meritorious measure.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Cox).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, under the present law as I understand it, these companies are permitted to charge three per cent. a month, which would mean thirty-six per cent. a year.

Mr. COX. That is right; up to a certain rate three per cent., up to one hundred dollars; over one hundred dollars, two per cent. a month.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Under this present bill it is proposed to increase it to forty per cent.

Mr. COX. Practically, yes.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Practically?

Mr. COX. Forty per cent.

Mr. PHILLIPS. That one dollar examination fee applies when a person applies for a loan up to one hundred dollars, for examination.

Mr. COX. That is right.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Suppose they renew every month, do they still have to pay?

Mr. COX. That is what we are trying to correct. The unscrupulous money lender, if a man pays off when the two months are up, can charge his examination fee. So you see they double up this high rate of interest on the borrower. These letters I have here from the other states prove conclusively that the banking departments in those states are right in their contention that they are able to check up more readily the fees charged than they are under our law. That is the reason I advocate it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 957, entitled

An Act making it a misdemeanor for any person to remove deface alter change destroy or obliterate in any manner whatsoever any distinguishing mark of any kind or character on goods or chattels with the intention of preventing the owner from indentifying the same

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, if the sponsor of this bill is here, I would like to ask the reason for its passage. This is apparently an act to be connected up with the criminal code. When you come to a penal act, there ought to be some reason or justification for its passage. In reading this bill over, I don't think there is good reason or proper justification for its passage.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 957 is practically a copy of nearly all the bills that have come into this House on automobiles. Most of the bills that related to automobiles provided that it should be a crime for a man to deface a number or distinguishing mark on an automobile for the purpose of preventing the owner from indentifying it. I happened to be on a sub-committee that had in charge some automobile bills, and it seemed to me that if it was a good idea, as far as automobiles are concerned, that it ought to be a good idea concerning all personal property, that if any man deliberately defaced or rubbed or destroyed a distinguishing mark on personal property with the intention of depriving or preventing the owner from indentifying that property, that that should be a crime, and it should be punished. I do not see why that protection should be confined to automobiles alone. It seems to me that it is a good idea, and it ought to cover all kinds of personal property.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, to my way of thinking there is a wonderful difference between an automobile and ten thousand things that would be found in the ordinary department store. Any person that practices in the criminal courts knows the number of people brought up there monthly as shop-lifters, and hears the testimony that is produced against these people,—thousands and thousands of them that are absolutely innocent,—would not be in favor of an act of Assembly that would again place those people's liberty in jeopardy. This bill places it in the hands of an unscrupulous man to put a thousand of his employes in a position where he could drag them before the criminal court and sentence them to a penalty of five hundred dollars or an imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. No act of Assembly ought to be placed on the statute books, especially a penal act, that might possibly place the liberty of innocent employes in these different department stores,—and not only department stores, but worse than that, worse than department stores,—in a position whereby they might be subjected to criminal prosecution by their unscrupulous employer, and that is the reason I am opposed to a penal act that might possibly jeopardize the liberty of innocent people. When I listen to the testimony taken in a hundred cases a month for shop-lifting, I am very much constrained to say that I would vote against any bill that would again place in the hands of the prosecutors another lever by which they might possibly drag into the criminal court, for the sole and express purpose of wreaking their vengeance on them, persons who might possibly be innocent, and that is the reason I am opposed to it.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I am not an attorney and neither am I a lawyer, but I am surprised to see a lawyer stand up in this House and say he will not vote for any bill where it protects the public in general. I really believe that anything we might do that will stop crime is a benefit to the people, and, naturally, if this bill is what it purports to be, protection against the removal of any distinguishing mark,—for instance, we will not say in a department store article, but any watch, carriage, machine, or anything else that has a distinguishing mark, we have just as much right to be protected on these as any other article, whether it be an automobile or not. I believe the bill is a very good bill and nothing that can be done to protect the public should be overlooked, especially in these times.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE BILL NO. 116 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. POWELL asked and received unanimous consent to offer a motion, which was read by the clerk as follows:

Moved by Mr. Powell, of Luzerne, and seconded by Mr. Dawson, of Lackawanna, that House Bill No. 116, file folio 2385, on page 11 of today's calendar, entitled

An Act for the better protection of fish requiring citizens of the United States residing within and without this Commonwealth to procure a license to fish or angle in the waters of this Commonwealth or in the waters bounding or adjacent thereto and regulating the issuance of such license providing penalties for the violation of this act and the manner of proceeding to enforce compliance therewith and providing for the disposition of the penalties recovered and license fees received be made a special order on third reading for Monday evening, April 7, 1919, at 10:00 o'clock.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: In making this motion I do so simply for the reason that a number of members wish to be heard on this bill and this is just simply as a matter of courtesy to the members who have left for their homes, so that they may have an opportunity to have the matter considered and threshed out from top to bottom before a full house.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF THE HONORABLE JOEL G. HILL, EX-SENATOR FROM THE FOURTEENTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

Mr. BARNES offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His wise Providence to remove from earth the Honorable Joel G. Hill, ex-senator from the Fourteenth Senatorial District of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, It is eminently fitting that some public recognition of his sterling qualities should be made by this body, therefore be it

Resolved by the members of the Senate, that in the death of Ex-Senator Hill, the State of Pennsylvania has suffered the loss of one of it's most useful citizens, one whose utmost ambition was not only to offer himself as a sacrifice upon the altar of his country, as he nobly did in 1861, but whose constant aim in life was to serve his fellowmen and serve them well; and be it also

Resolved That the heartfelt sympathy of this Senate be extended to his wife and children in their affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the bereaved family, and a copy of the same spread upon the Senate Board.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE RETURN FROM FRANCE AND DEMOBILIZATION OF THE FIFTEENTH ENGINEER REGIMENT.

Mr. MURDOCH offered the following resolution which was twice read;

Whereas, The Fifteenth Engineer Regiment was among the first units of the army of the United States to land in France and has been in active service continuously since that time, a period of almost two years; and,

Whereas, The Fifteenth Engineer Regiment has rendered most notable service for the cause of the United States and its allies; and,

Whereas, The mothers, fathers, wives and children of the boys constituting the Fifteenth Engineer Regiment, while willing to make any sacrifice that is necessary to secure a lasting peace to the world and to the institutions of these United States, they feel, nevertheless, that the Fifteenth Engineer Regiment so long in the service is deserving of relief and having served the longest should be the first to come home; therefore,

Be it resolved (if the House concur), That the Senate of Pennsylvania herewith requests the Secretary of War for the United States, and the Commander-in-Chief of the American armies in France to immediately designate the Fifteenth Engineer Regiment for return to the United States and demobilization; and,

Be it further resolved, That copies of these resolutions be transmitted to the Secretary of War and to General Pershing for their immediate consideration.

Mr. MURDOCH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EYRE, from the Committee on Public Roads and Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 728, entitled:

An Act repealing an act entitled "An Act requiring certain counties, in certain instances, to assist townships in the construction, repair, and maintenance of main traveled or trunk roads, other than State or State-aid highways, and providing the method of procedure," approved the 29th day of May, A. D. 1917.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that the executive session do now rise.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communications in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 94.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 3, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 94, entitled, "An Act fixing the pay of election officers and clerks."

This bill seeks to increase the pay of election officers from $5 to $7 per day. It has only been a few years since the pay of these public servants was increased to $5 which seems like an adequate sum for the present.

There is no higher public duty than service upon the election boards of the State. The question of the compensation should not affect the character of that service or of the citizens offering themselves to perform these duties. I do not believe that an increase such as is proposed, would bring any improvement in the service. It would, however, impose an added expense of many thousands of dollars upon the counties of the State at the general elections and the primary elections. Many of the counties have serious financial problems to meet and I do not feel that it would be wise to increase their burdens.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. President I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 27.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 4, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 27, entitled, "An Act authorizing county commissioners to appropriate moneys to cities and boroughs to assist in the erection of comfort and waiting stations."

It is not clear to me just why counties should be called upon to assist with such municipal interprises. County funds had better be conserved for purposes which will be more widely beneficial to the people of the county as a whole.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which were read as follows:

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 118.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 4th, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 118, entitled "An Act making an appropriation to the Commissioners of Valley Forge Park:"

I am approving this bill with the understanding that the amount therein provided will enable the Valley Forge Park Commissioners to settle for all the land required to complete the boundaries authorized by previous legislation. This is a large appropriation for a time like this when the demands upon the State's funds are so heavy and so much money is required for constructive public works which will give employment to our people. I regard it as only fair to now give notice that I cannot approve any additional appropriations for land at Valley Forge. The State will not, therefore, be committed for additional purchases until more money is available for such purposes.

WM. C. SPROUL.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 208.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE RECOGNITION OF THE JEWISH RACE AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 2, 1919.

Whereas, the future prosperity and peace of the world depends upon a just and equitable settlement of the European War whereby each and every nationality, however small, be granted the liberty to determine its own destiny and the opportunity of living its own life, and,

Whereas, The government of the United States of America is recognized as an ardent exponent of the rights of the small nations; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the opinion of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the national aspirations and historical claims of the Jewish people with regard to Palestine be recognized at the Peace Conference, in accordance with the British Government's declaration of November second, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, that there shall be established such political, administrative, and economic conditions in Palestine as will assure the development of Palestine into a Jewish commonwealth, and,

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania request the American representatives at the Peace Conference to use their best endeavors to facilitate the achievement of this object;

Resolved, That it is the opinion of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that express provisions be made at the Peace Conference for the purpose of granting the Jewish people in every land the complete enjoyment of life, liberty and the opportunities for national development to the end that justice may be done to one of the most suffering people on earth—the Jewish people, and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the President of the United States.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Any county incurring any such indebtedness shall at or before the time of incurring the same make provision for a sinking fund to pay at maturity the indebtedness so incurred and interest thereon" shall be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 15 The several counties are further authorized and empowered pursuant to a resolution adopted for that purpose by a majority of the county commissioners of such county to borrow money and to incur indebtedness for the purposes aforesaid to an amount not exceeding the limit of indebtedness prescribed by the Constitution of this Commonwealth in compliance with the laws regulating the manner of increasing such indebtedness and also to fund any indebtedness incurred for the purposes aforesaid and to issue as evidences of such indebtedness registered and coupon bonds or either of them payable within thirty years from the date of their issue and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six percentum per annum payable semi-annually which bonds shall not be sold at less than their par value and accrued interest and to levy and collect taxes on all taxable property in such county in addition to all other taxes for the purpose of paying such indebtedness and interest thereon Any county incurring such indebtedness shall at or before the time of incurring the same make provision for a sinking fund to pay at maturity all indebtedness so incurred and interest thereon

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. WHITTEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the title, page 1, line 1, by striking out the word "section" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "sections;" also line 11, by striking out the word "borough" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "boroughs;" also section 1, page 3, line 3, by striking out "rivate" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "private;" also section 2, page 6, line 15, by inserting after the word "plans" the word "and."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 384 (House Bill No. 563), as follows:

An Act making an appropriation for deficiencies to the trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane of the Southeastern District of Pennsylvania located at Norristown Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of one hundred and twenty thousand dollars ($120,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to the trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane for the Southeastern District of Pennsylvania located at Norristown Pennsylvania to cover a deficiency in maintenance of the said hospital for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 448 (House Bill No. 286), entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand six hundred and eight and section two thousand and sixteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenues to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, this bill prohibits the teaching of the German language in our public schools and in our State Normal Schools. I submit that this bill should not pass for the reason that it is discriminating against our public school system. If the teaching of the German language in our Commonwealth is an evil then it ought to be prohibited and we ought not to pass a special act of this kind which only prohibits it in the public schools and our State Normal Schools. If it is an evil it ought also to be prohibited in the private schools, in the parochial schools, in our preparatory schools, in our colleges and universities. If you pass this bill you create a situation in Lehigh County, for instance, in the City of Allentown, you bar the Allentown High School, which prepares our young men and young women for our colleges, from teaching the German language. You have on the west of that city, the Allentown Preparatory School, the Allentown College, for women, and the Muhlenburg College, and a few blocks to the East are our Parochial Schools, in all of which you will tolerate and permit the teaching of the German language, but you will abolish it and prohibit it in our public schools and State Normal Schools. I respectfully submit that the passage of this bill is a gross discrimination against our public schools and I think it did not originate among the friends of our public school system. Furthermore, we were told that we were not waging a war against the German people but against the German government, and certainly we were not waging a war against the German language. One of our greatest hindrances at the beginning of this war was that we were not prepared. We immediately went to work and we taught our young people, our soldiers, French, because French was the language needed in France. We did not have to go to that trouble with the German language, because everybody was famaliar and acquainted with that language; but if an emmergiency arises like that in the future, if you pass this law, you will also have to become familiar with the German language. England and France are wiser; they are today putting forward efforts to become familiar with the German language, and with the languages of all foreign nations with which complications may arise in the future. If we are going to adopt this policy of barring the German language because we are on unfriendly terms with that nation will we be consistent and follow that course in the future? We have had two wars with Great Britain, we have had a war with Spain, we have had a war with Mexico, but our forefathers never abolished and barred any of the languages of those countries. Mr. President, I submit, that this bill is a gross discrimination against our public schools and our State Normal Schools and it ought not to be passed, because I do not believe that it has originated among the friends of those institutions.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, if American History is taught in the schools of Lehigh County in the German language.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, it is not, and I did not say so.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I am surprised that it should be necessary to say anything in opposition to this bill, or in support of it. It has been my reading of history that every time a nation has conquered another nation it has been its consistent policy to try and force its language upon the conquered nation and to adopt measures repressive of the language of the conquered nation and the nation that has been conquered has always done its best, although some times it would be done secretly, to keep its language alive. Mr. President, it seems to me, without making a long story of this, that the prime object of the American school is to make American citizens, and I do not believe you can do it in any other language but the American. The German language has been the vehicle in the past number of years for the German propaganda, which did so much to make us unprepared, as the Senator has so well said. All this Democratic twaddle that we have been hearing for the past several years about not fighting the German people has long since been thrown into the discard by its very author. Nobody who knows anything about the history in the last four years doubts for a moment that it was the German people and the German people alone with whom we have been at war, and they have now been conquered. I think it is high time that we cease assisting the German government and the German people in keeping alive German Kultur in the United States through the medium of this German language, which has been so ably defended. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, there is only room for one language in our American public schools; there is room only for American ideals and the American language, and the American flag over the top of these school houses the same flag that the American boys are floating proudly over the Rhine tonight, the very birthplace of this German language that is so ably defended here. The pupils of Lehigh County, whether they are in the common schools, the parochial schools or high schools, ought to be required to read the history of Belleau Woods and St. Mihiel in the American language. I should not think it necessary to say another word in defense of this bill. I think it should be our duty to do nothing here to assist the perpetuating of this German Kultur by reinstating this German language, which almost every school board in the State of Pennsylvania has thrown out of the schools, and justly so. There ought not to be even one vote against this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. F. E. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Craig and Mr. Phipps and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23.

Baldwin, F. E.,	Crow,	Homsher,	Sassaman,
Baldwin, R. J.,	Daix,	Leslie,	Schantz
Barnes,	DeWitt,	McNichol,	Smith,
Boyd,	Donahue,	Nason,	Sones,
Buckman,	Einstein,	Patton,	Tompkins,
Campbell,	Haldeman,	Salus,

NAYS—22.

Barr,	Herron,	Mearkle,	Turner,
Beales,	Jones,	Miller, J. S.,	Vare,
Craig,	Leiby,	Miller, S. J.,	Weaver,
Eyre,	Marlow,	Murdoch,	Whitten,
Graff,	Martin,	Phipps,	Woodward,
Gray,	McConnell,	Snyder,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with.

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 61, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to cover deficiencies in Maintenance and imminent Repairs to the Home for the Training in Speech of Deaf Children Before they are of School Age at Belmont Avenue and Monument Road Philadelphia

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, April 7, 1919.

The House met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou all-seeing eye, look down, we pray Thee, upon this Nation, a chosen people, in a chosen place, in a chosen time, to do a chosen work. Grant, we beseech Thee, that we may not fail in the greatest experiment of freedom that the world has ever seen. O God, grant unto us that we may learn that liberty does not mean to do as we please, that it means to do that which is right, and so help us to see in all our morals, in all our relations of business, in the affairs of state, wherever we are, that right is the great fundamental basis stone upon which the superstructure must be erected. Give unto this body a high sense of right that they may act and do as in Thy sight, for right, without any means of support, is stronger than the lie; though the arsenal of the world is back of the lie, it is doomed to fail. Grant, O God, that unto us, to whom Thou hast given so much, Thou wilt also give a high sense of that which is right. Amen.

RESOLUTION NO. 14.

Mr. PIKE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 14.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 24, 1919.

Whereas, The Revenue Law of the United States provides for the assessment and collection of a tax upon all articles commercially known as sporting goods, and

Whereas, This tax will of necessity increase the price of such articles and in many instances prevent the purchase thereof by the boys and girls because of insufficient means, and

Whereas, This inability to purchase will have a direct effect upon the health and proper development of the boys and girls of the nation who love to indulge in manly sports, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do respectfully address and petition the Congress of the United States to repeal the provisions of the present Revenue Law of the United States which impose a tax upon articles commercially known as sporting goods,

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth forward a copy of this resolution to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States, and that a copy thereof be sent to each member of said bodies from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

WM. C. SPROUL.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 7.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 4, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 7, entitled "An Act to repeal section thirty-two of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred forty-four (Pamphlet Laws four hundred eighty-six) entitled 'An Act to reduce the State debt and to incorporate the Pennsylvania canal and railroad company' in so far as it imposes a tax on horses mares geldings mules and neat cattle over the age of four years for county purposes in counties having a population of more than one million four hundred thousand inhabitants."

This Bill is unconstitutional, as it violates Article 3, Section 7 of the Constitution, which provides "nor shall the General Assembly indirectly enact such special or local law by the partial repeal of the general law." Furthermore, I am of the opinion that there is no substantial reason for such classification as that attempted in this Act, even if it were constitutional.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. Ramsey, seconded by Mr. Albert Millar,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 179.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber Harrisburg, April 3, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 179, entitled "An Act authorizing the judges learned in the law of the courts of common pleas and orphans' court of the counties having a population of more than one hundred and fifty thousand and less than two hundred fifty thousand inhabitants to employ suitable clerical assistance and providing for the payment of such clerical assistance by the several counties."

It seems to me that the classification attempted to be made in this act is not founded upon any inherent difference that exists beteen counties having something less than one hundred and fifty thousand or something over two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants such as to warrant judges of counties having a population between these figures having the right to the benefit of clerical hire. For instance, Lancaster County would come within the purview of the act, in view of the fact that it has over one hundred and fifty thousand and less than two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants, while Dauphin County would not come within its terms. I think it is a matter of common knowledge that the work of the Courts of Dauphin County exceed that of Lancaster County.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. Ramsey, seconded by Mr. Alexander,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 409.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 3, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return, herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 409, entitled, "An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs to appropriate moneys for aiding entertaining and caring for soldiers sailors and marines and validating and ratifying appropriations and payments heretofore made."

This bill, while commendable in purpose, is so loosely drawn as not to be clearly understood, and, in its present form, might give rise to grave abuses.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. Hess, seconded by Mr. Goodnough,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 586.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 4, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 586, entitled "An Act validating all decrees of divorce granted by virtue of and pursuant to an act approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws three hundred eight) entitled 'An Act amending section three of an act entitled "An Act concerning divorces' approved the eighth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four enlarging the same so as to include indignities to the person of the husband' wherein the decree of divorce shall be silent as to support or alimony and the court shall not have allowed any alimony or support to the wife nor in any manner determined the right of the wife thereto."

I am of the opinion that there is no necessity for this bill. The law as it now stands permits the courts where there is a decree of divorce entered at the suit of the wife on a charge of cruelty on the part of her husband to allow support or alimony in the decree, if in the opinion of the court such an order may be proper.

The subject matter of this bill is one that the courts can take care of in entering decrees and is not proper to be treated legislatively.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. Dithrich, seconded by Mr. North,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 644.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 4, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 644, entitled "An Act providing for the appointment of county detectives in certain counties and fixing their salaries payable from the county treasury."

Under existing laws and under House Bill No. 536, which I have approved, I think that there is ample provision made for the appointment of detectives.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. Willert, seconded by Mr. Hoffman.

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL NO. 664.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 4, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 664, entitled "An Act to authorize and empower any motor power company of this Commonwealth which shall own at least two-thirds of the capital stock of a turnpike company of this Commonwealth whose turnpike has been purchased by the Commonwealth and which has acquired the road property franchises powers privileges and immunities of a passenger railroad company which are operated under a lease by the turnpike company to the motor power company to acquire the road property franchises powers privileges and immunities of the turnpike company.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON OLD AGE PENSIONS.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the report of the Commission on Old Age Pensions.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the report of the Commission on Old Age Pensions. The same will be noted on the Journal and printed in the appendix of the Legislative Journal.

(For report see Appendix).

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 180 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, April 7, 1919.

Resolved, (If the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 180, entitled "An Act to amend section one of an act approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws Three Hundred and Sixty-four), entitled 'An Act to increase the pay of jurors and witnesses in this Commonwealth,'" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 513, as follows

An Act making an appropriation for the Dixmont Hospital for the Insane

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of ninety-five thousand ($95,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to the Dixmont Hospital for the Insane at Dixmont Allegheny County Pennsylvania to cover a deficiency in maintenance of the said hospital from June first one thousand nine hundred seventeen to May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Bucher.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 777, entitled

An Act to provide for the removal or retirement of judges of the Supreme Superior Common Pleas Orphans Municipal and County Court permanently disqualified by reason of physical or mental desiability to perform their judicial functions or duties and providing for the payment of salaries to them during the balance of the term for which they may have been elected and for the remainder of their lives after such removal or retirement and for filling the vacancies caused thereby providing for such judges as may have been or who may have retired under provisions of previous acts and for judges who have heretofore retired and repealing certain acts

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: It seems to me it ought not to be necessary to call attention to a bill like this in order to prevent its passage. We have had here various bills relating to judgships presented, and here is one that would create paupers of judges. It would on a thirty-day notice, given them, or allowed them on a request that they be regulated to the rear and someone else be put into their places. There are a good many people in the State of Pennsylvania who believe that old people, people who are incapacitated, should be pensioned; they are the property and wealth of the State and as such wealth of the State we should care for them. Here is a class of people who have been well cared for; better than the average. They are not paupers; they are not people incapacitated in that profession, in the profession of the law. Their profession allows them to earn some renumeration from their labors that make them almost, an aristocratic class, and in this class we are placing them in a class by themselves with a salary and then making paupers of them and giving them a pension for life, and this is against the principles of the other classes in Pennsylvania.

I don't believe that any class in Pennsylvania should be imposed upon through these judges being better cared for than any other officers in the State. Their terms are longer and their expenses less in many cases and we should not be expected to pass a bill of this kind in the State of Pennsylvania, especially not at a time like this. The State of Pennsylvania should demand at this time constructive legislation. This is raising a breach between the classes and the masses; trying to put these men as a class of people under a pension as against the mass. This in my mind is in the opposite direction from constructive legislation. I protest most violently against this kind of a bill. I don't know how it appeals to you. I believe that we should look at these people and then at the remainder of the people of Pennsylvania and after doing that we will not feel like putting the people of Pennsylvania up as against this class. Do the judges of Pennsylvania deserve more attention, do they deserve more legislation than the mass of people of Pennsylvania who pay the bills. Speaking for myself, I cannot vote for such a measure. I think it is wrong in principle and I believe it is against the best interests of the State of Pennsylvania. I ask all of you to vote against it and in my weak way I will protest against it.

Mr. BUCHER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: It was not my intention at the time that I sponsored this bill to create any impression that I desire to make paupers out of the judges of this State. It is a well known fact that judges are lawyers and usually have a good practice and as a rule make good money. When you ask a man to give up his practice and sit on the bench and then in a short time when that man becomes incapacitated you pass up the responsibility for his future and you should be just to him. Only recently in the city which I come from a few people from a secret band deposited bombs in the home of one of the judges and fortunately no great damage was done. Nevertheless it might have been that this judge would have been hurt so badly that he could not have continued in his work. It is not a question of raising salaries; it is a question of taking care of these men after they have been incapacitated. I ask you gentlemen what is there in this bill which makes paupers out of the judges? It takes care of them only after they have become incapacitated and are not able any longer to do the work which we had given them to do. I ask you to support this bill because I believe it is fair and just.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker, I have always been in favor of high salaries. I voted for the increase of the salaries of the judges and I did it heartily. I will vote for the increase of the salaries of the teachers; in fact, I would like to put in two votes on that occasion. I believe in paying men and women enough to enable them to live in decency, and in the enjoyment of some of the luxuries of life. When I voted for the increase of the salaries of the judges I felt that their compensation then would be sufficient to enable them to live and lay up some for a rainy day. I am not very large for pensioning employes. I believe that after a man serves on the bench for a period of fifteen years at the salary which he will now receive after the law we have here enacted, I believe that he will have enough to enable him to live in comfort the remainder of his life. I believe that the men should be largely compensated; I believe that all men should be largely compensated; and I believe that they have been sufficiently compensated to enable them to get along without any pensioning. I will vote no.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: The opposition to this bill, I presume, is under the belief that it would be thereby an increase or some kind of an expense to the counties, and thereby, naturally, to your constituents. I don't know whether the members of this House understand or not—all the membership—that there is a law today upon the statute books that provides that where a judge is incapacitated and is not able to perform his duties for the time being, that he may call in a judge from an outside county, and that judge can sit in that court the same as your county judge, and every day that he sits there your county is going to pay him twenty dollars per day. That is paid in addition to the salary that your county judge is drawing while he is not doing the work. Now, you can see the result. If a judge sees fit, he may remain upon the bench indefinitely, whether he is able to perform his duties or not, and the result to your county is that you are paying him a salary as described by law and you are paying, in addition to that, twenty dollars per day which comes out of the pockets of your taxpayers. Therefore, I say that if for no other reasons, the members of this House should vote for this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I agree with every word my friend from Lawrence (Mr. Jordan) has said and, as you remember, in advocating the judges' salary raiser. I said that we should give the judges enough so that when they were through or after they had been on the bench for fifteen years and served their constituents properly, that they would have enough to live on; but I want to call the House's attention to the fact that that bill at the present time is being held up in the Senate, and we are not sure that the bill is going to be passed—I hope it is. If that bill is passed, then I am opposed to all pension bills, as I said before, but until that bill is passed, if we are going to make paupers of our judges, then we must take care of them by bills such as this kind. I say, therefore, let this House pass this bill and let it go to the Senate, and then if they pass our other bill, the judges salary raiser, let them kill this bill. But at the present time, with the judges' salary bill not passed in the Senate, being held up by the Senate, let us pass this bill and let us see what they do with both of them.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I must disagree with my friend from Philadelphia (Mr. Wells) in his statement that when a judge is called from one county to another for the purpose of holding court there, that his pay of twenty dollars is paid by the county. That per diem is paid by the State and not by the county.

I would like, Mr. Speaker, at this time to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia who is sponsoring this bill (Mr. Bucher).

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Tioga (Mr. Williams) desires to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Bucher. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCHER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman to kindly inform us what provisions are now made by law for the retirement of judges who become incapacitated?

Mr. BUCHER. Mr. Speaker, at the age of sixty-five and with twenty years' service, they get one-half pay.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Then, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's bill increases it from one-half to three-fourths pay?

Mr. BUCHER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker, three-fourths pay.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker, that is all.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, this bill has in it one meritorious provision that should be considered by every man before he votes upon it. This bill does not provide that when a judge is retired he shall receive three-fourths pay and do nothing. This bill requires that he shall act in those matters referred to him by the court, and it is a well known fact to lawyers throughout this State that there are retired judges today sitting as masters in equity and chancery. They are also called in for conference. I know of a man, one judge who served his county with the greatest fidelity for years, who sits almost daily with his former colleagues in consultation on matters of the very gravest and most difficult kind. We find, also, that outside of that, a judge who retires can hold no other remunerative position. He is bound and limited to the compensation which he receives under the provisions of this act.

Reference has been made to the increase of salaries proposed by a bill recently passed by this House. That is well, and let us hope that it passes the Senate and goes to the Governor and will be approved by him; but, gentlemen, what has that to do with a man who has not yet received its benefit or who, because of the interference of providence, is unable to perform his functions properly as a judge. It does not retroact. It does not aid in putting into that man's pocket the amount which he has spent—let us hope— for the salvation of his own life and for that reason I feel that the gentleman from Lawrence will agree that when it does not apply to the man it is only fair to give him the benefits of the provisions that an act like this gives. It provides in this act that he may retire after fifteen years' active service and under the old act, twenty years. I also wish to call to your attention that in the last ten years our life has been much more rigorous than during ten or fifteen years before that. Within the last ten years we can safely assume that we, ourselves, have aged a great deal more than our forbears did at our own age. Therefore we can say that a judge, serving during the last ten years, has had upon his shoulders greater burdens and more onerous matters to attend to than any of his forbearers. I feel that if we regard this from a medical standpoint, from a reasonable standpoint, from a humane standpoint, we will agree that when a judge has served faithfully for fifteen years, and being incapacitated we should retire him and not permit him to retire without compensation, and three-fourths of his compensation is certainly not too much under the meager salaries which court judges receive in this Commonwealth. It seems to me that the bill should meet with the approval of all right-thinking men in this House and pass.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I do not wish to take your time foolishly, but I want to call your attention to one thing that we are overlooking. There is a class of people in Pennsylvania who do deserve pensions. That class represents those who have rendered a service to the State of Pennsylvania. They are the men who went away from their homes, went to foreign lands, and went there for a purpose as important, as noble as any represented by any class in the State of Pennsylvania. They have come back to this land, many of them crippled. Some of them have left widows and orphans, and up to this time we have not seen fit to make of them a class to receive pensions. If one class of people in this State is eligible to pensions, I believe that class is too, and I believe they deserve the support of every man in this House. If we are going to create pensions and a pension system, let us give to those who deserve it and where the cause is sufficient to demand it.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Cambria (Mr. Horne) a question or two.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Bennett) desires to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria (Mr. Horne). Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HORNE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Bennett) will proceed.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, if a judge who is now and for a number of years has been serving in this State finds himself totally and permanently incapacitated and not coming within the provisions of the present retirement act or the one that is contemplated, and who has spent the most of his salary for a number of years in treating himself and staving off that fatal, tragic day of incapacitation, what would Mr. Horne suggest as to taking care of and providing for him who has faithfully served society in the capacity of a judge and yet not come within the limits of the law or its provisions? What would he do with him as a faithful servant, incapacitated through an act of Providence, while having a number of years to live and a family to maintain?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I am not so sure that I understand the gentleman's question as he would like me to. Perhaps the gentleman has suggested the answer himself.

Mr. BENNETT. I do not think that I heard your answer.

Mr. HORNE. I am not sure that I understood your question, but perhaps you have answered the question yourself in this bill. However, I would suggest this: How would the farmer and the miner or any other man take care of himself under the same circumstances?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman insist upon his request?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker I withdraw my request for a verification.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified, the affirmative being read as follows:

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know how the gentleman from Clinton (Mr. Quigley) is recorded as voting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not recorded as voting.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I understood the clerk to read that he voted in the affirmative. For information I would like to know how the gentleman from Fayette (Mr. McIntyre) is recorded as voting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is recorded as voting "aye."

Mr. WILLIAMS. Is the gentleman in the house?

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman was here and voted, but has left the House.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I challenge the vote of the gentleman from Fayette (Mr. McIntyre).

The SPEAKER. The gentleman must furnish his challenge in writing.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I will do so.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know how the gentleman from Cumberland (Mr. Beckley) is recorded as voting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is recorded as voting "aye."

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not present.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from Cumberland (Mr. Beckley) present?

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has not been present for two weeks.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman challenge the vote.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I challenge the vote of the gentleman from Cumberland (Mr. Beckley). He has not been here for three weeks.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will accept the challenge of both votes. Does the gentleman insist upon his challenge of the vote of the gentlemen from Fayette (Mr. McIntyre)?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I do.

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, the gentlemen from Fayette will be here in five minutes. I might add further that the gentleman's wife is very sick and he has been called home, but he will return in a few moments.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House take a recess for five minutes in order that the gentleman from Fayette may have a chance to return to the House.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, when the gentleman from Fayette says that the gentleman from Fayette (Mr. McIntyre) was here and voted, I think his word is good and that is a verity.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will not announce the vote until the roll is properly verified. The Chair will not announce his decision at this time.

Mr. ZIMMERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I did not hear my name called, and I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The SPEAKER. Was the gentleman in his seat when the roll was called?

Mr. ZIMMERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I was, but I was talking to a neighbor and I did not hear my name called.

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection to the gentleman being recorded as voting "aye"? The Chair hears none and the gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. GRIFFITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know how the gentleman from Blair (Mr. Zook) is recorded as voting?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Blair (Mr. Zook) has a leave of absence for two weeks, and is not recorded as voting. Is there any objection or further alteration to the affirmative vote? The Chair hears none, and the affirmative vote will stand as verified.

The negative vote was read as follows:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. McINTYRE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McINTYRE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye" on this bill.

The SPEAKER. Was the gentleman in his seat when his name was called?

Mr. McINTYRE. Mr. Speaker, I was inside the rail.

The SPEAKER. Did the gentleman vote when his name was called?

Mr. McINTYRE. Mr. Speaker, I voted "aye."

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection to this vote?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I accept the explanation of the gentleman from Fayette, and withdraw my challenge.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the negative vote will stand as verified. The Chair hears no objection. One hundred and six gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and seventy-seven in the negative the question is determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the bill to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10:00 o'clock having arrived, the House will now take up the special order of the day, and the Chair lays before the House as said special order House Bill No. 116, on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading gand consideration of House Bill No. 116, as follows:

An Act for the better protection of fish, requiring citizens of the United States residing within and without this Commonwealth to procure a license to fish or angle in the waters of this Commonwealth or in the waters bounding or adjacent thereto and regulating the issuance of such license providing penalties for the violation of this act and the manner of proceeding to enforce compliance therewith and providing for the disposition of the penalties recovered and license fees received

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the word "persons" as used in this act except where the context otherwise indicates means any male citizen of the State of Pennsylvania over sixteen years of age and all citizens male and female of the United States not citizens of Pennsylvania without regard to age Masculine gender includes the feminine Singular number includes the plural

Section 2 The provisions of this act are severable and in the event of any section hereof being declared unconstitutional it is hereby declared as the intention of the legislature that such section may be eliminated therefrom without effecting any other provisions of this act

Section 3 No person except as hereinafter provided shall angle or fish at any time in any of the waters of this Commonwealth or in the waters bounding or adjacent thereto without having first secured a license as hereinafter provided

Section 4 Citizens of this State and citizens of the United States not citizens of this State but who have resided herein for at least one year immediately preceding their application are entitled upon written or oral application to receive from any county treasurer or justice of the peace or from the Commissioner of Fisheries his officers or agents a "resident's fishing license" upon payment of a license fee of one dollar and the cost of such treasurer's or justice's fee

Section 5 Citizens of the United States who are not citizens of the State of Pennsylvania and who have not resided herein for the period of one year immediately preceding their application are entitled upon written or oral application to receive from any county treasurer or justice of the peace or from the Commissioner of Fisheries his officers or agents a "non-resident's fishing license" upon payment of a license fee of five dollars together with the cost of such treasurer's or justice's fee

Section 6 All licenses shall be issued on forms prepared and supplied by the Commissioner of Fisheries at the expense of the Commonwealth The license shall show the name age occupation and residence of the licensee and the date of its issue It shall also contain the signature of the licensee written in ink and shall authorize the person named therein to fish or angle in the waters of this Commonwealth or in the waters bounding and adjacent thereto under the restrictions and requirements of existing laws during that year the date of which is inscribed thereon The license shall become void upon the thirty-first day of December next following the date of issue The license may contain such other information as the Commissioner of Fisheries may require

Section 7 Every county treasurer of this Commonwealth shall keep in a book to be supplied by the Commissioner of Fisheries at the cost of the Commonwealth a correct and complete record of all fishing licenses issued by him Every county treasurer shall cause to be entered in such book at the close of each week the name and place of residence of each individual to whom a license shall have been issued that week Such book shall be open at reasonable hours to the inspection of any officer of the Commonwealth whose duty it is by law to protect the fish in the waters of this Commonwealth or in the waters bounding or adjacent thereto

Section 8 Any justice of the peace who has qualified therefor by having applied to the county treasurer of the county in which he is located and having received and receipted therefor the necessary blanks may issue any fishing license provided by this act on like conditions and in the like manner as prescribed for the issuance of such licenses by any county treasurer upon payment of fifteen cents to said justice by said licensee and in addition to the license fee hereinbefore provided said sum of fifteen cents to be retained by said justice of the peace as his fee for the issuance of the license and for reporting the same and remitting payment therefor to the county treasurer of the county in which said justice of the peace is located Such report and remittance shall be made by such justice of the peace within twenty-four hours after the issuance of said license by him Upon such report and remittance the county treasurer shall make a record of and otherwise treat said license as though it has been issued from his office except that he shall also note upon his record the name of the justice issuig the license Every justice of the peace shall deliver the book or books from which he has issued licenses together with the stubs thereon properly filled out and showing the names of each licensee the number and character of the license and such other matter as the stubs may require to the treasurer of his county during the month of January of each year

Section 23 No person now required by law to procure a license to fish or to propagate fish for sale shall be required in addition to secure the license provided by this act in order to enable such person to exercise those rights conferred by the license or licenses so procured under the laws existing prior to the passage of this act

Section 24 The provisions of this act shall not apply to nor prevent the owner or lessee of any farm or other land situated in this Commonwealth who actually resides thereon throughout the year or the members of his family so residing upon said farm or land from angling or fishing in waters wholly within the limits of said farm or land or abutting thereon without such license

The exemption provided by the foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to any person temporarily residing upon said farm or land or any tenant thereon who is not a member of the family of said owner or lessee nor shall said exemption apply to any servant or employe of said owner or lessee

Section 25 This act shall not affect the provisions of an act approved April twenty-first one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act to give additional protection to the fish in the waters within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania prohibiting the fishing for or capture or killing of such fish by unnaturalized foreign-born residents and prescribing penalties for violation of its provisions" nor the provisions of any act for the propagation or protection of fish

Section 26 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, this is the famous fisherman's license bill we have been talking about for sometime. There are two provisions in this bill, gentlemen, to which our attention should be called before we vote upon it. The first provision in the bill is that of raising revenue for the State of Pennsylvania. You will recall that two years ago when we were asked to make an appropriation to the Department of Fisheries to carry on the propogation and the protection of fish in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we were short of funds and unable to give to the Department of Fisheries an amount of money sufficient to carry on that department successfully. At that time there was a fishers' license proposition brought before this House, and for some reason or other it failed to get through. At this time, gentlemen of the House, we are called upon to make additional appropriations for school purposes; we are called upon to almost double our appropriations for hospitals on account of the extra expenses incurred during war times. Where are we going to get the money to make these appropriations if we are not willing to pass such bills as this, which will take away the burden from the Department of Fisheries? This fishers' license provides that one dollar shall be paid by every male citizen who fishes. That excludes women and farmers who own the land through which the stream runs. This bill is for the purpose of propogating and protecting fish in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Today there are two hundred and thirty-five or thereabouts of inland lakes in the State of Pennsylvania. Some of these lakes belong to private corporations; some of them belong to companies that have the privilege of stocking them with fish, and no man can fish in them except the rich, those who can pay for the privilege. Now the purpose of the Department of Fisheries is to take away from private ownership these lakes and give them to the common people; and in order to do that they must have sufficient funds to carry out the proposition already outlined.

The next question that comes before us—the greatest proposition of this bill, because there are a lot of streams in this Commonwealth which are polluted by different acids and chemical wastes, and the question of pollution has been a very serious question for some time—is that in taking it up with the Department of Fisheries the question is asked why don't the department enforce the law and stop the pollution? The Department of Fisheries, or the Commissioner, says that every time he brings a case of pollution he has to bring it before the courts of Pennsylvania; he has to bring it before the courts of Pennsylvania, and in so doing he has to provide evidence. For instance, he has to send chemists, men who understand the business, to these different streams for samples of the water; not only once, not only one man, but two competent witnesses must secure evidence. This water must be analyzed and the evidence produced in court; and you, gentlemen, you who are lawyers in this House, know it costs money to bring prosecutions; it costs money to enforce the law. There is another phase of the question. The companies do not want to go out and try to borrow money to make the improvements. That would put them out of business and take away the power from them. They have provided a competent remedy to sterilize the water and stop this pollution. That costs money, but they have endeavored to make improvements and show the people how this works.

The Department of Fisheries has been handicapped because it never had sufficient funds. It resolves itself to this, that if you want to fish in Pennsylvania, if you want the people to have the privilege of going out during certain seasons and catching fish and bringing them home, or going out yourself, somebody must pay for it; and who should pay for it? When the hunters' license was first brought up in this House—that was before I was a member—two or three sessions ago, it proposed penalties; and now you could not get twenty-five sportsmen to say they want that bill repealed. I do not believe that many sportsmen would say they wanted the license taken away, because they received great benefit. That is just exactly what we are asking the Department of Fisheries to do in order that we may fish better, in order that the propogation may be better, and in order that there may be better protection. We are asking the sportsmen to pay for this. Let us give every sportsman an opportunity to pay and not put the burden on the State of Pennsylvania. If any sportsman has objection to this bill, it is because he does not understand the purpose of it. It is not to put a dollar in the treasury of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but it is to follow out the program of the Department of Fisheries ,and because we may fish better; and if that is the case, we have their word and honor, gentlemen of the House, and I think we should pass this bill and get revenue enough to fill our streams with fish.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: The measure before us for consideration is entitled "An Act for the better protection of fish; requiring citizens of the United States residing within and without this Commonwealth to procure a license," in order to be permitted to fish within the waters of the Commonwealth; the act further requires the issuance of such licenses; it provides penalties for the violation of the act; and last, it provides the manner of proceedings to enforce compliance therewith. Gentlemen of the House, it is a measure that has teeth in it. The first phrase of the title is a misnomer. It says, "An Act for the better protection of fish." A better title, it seems to me, would be, "An Act to make it easy to inflict severe penalties upon otherwise good citizens of the State of Pennsylvania;" or on the other hand, "An Act to make fishing a crime," and the fisherman who continues to fish according to the old time-honored custom and landmarks of the pursuit, this act would tend to make him a criminal. This bill should never be entitled "An Act for the better protection of fish," when under its provision a youth of seventeen years of age who lives in a border hamlet of this Commonwealth, far away from a justice of the peace or county treasurer, who catches a single trout without a license would be summarily convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars, or else undergo imprisonment. While the gentleman assures us there is absolutely nothing in this bill that puts any restraint upon the manufacturing corporation which pollutes an otherwise pure stream and kills the fish with impunity, gentlemen of the House, in the west branch of the Susquehanna River during recent years a few large manufacturing establishments, not mines, as the gentleman from Clearfield (Mr. Phillips) would have you believe, but a few manufacturing concerns, have time and time and time again poured waste products into the waters of the west branch of the Susquehanna River which is deleterious, because it is fished white, so much so that I am reliably informed that in the waters of the west branch of the Susquehanna River, west from Lock Haven, these waters are practically destitute of all forms of food fish and are fished white. Let the State of Pennsylvania first stop the big manufacturers and fishkillers, for it is a matter of better protecting our fish by stopping them. Let the authorities first vigorously prosecute those who cover the streams with matters that are deletirious and that do not permit fish to live. If our laws are inadequate to cope with the situation then, gentlemen, in all fairness, let us first enact legislation looking to the punishment of the big offender before we pass this bill. I have before me a protest signed, not by a few hundred citizens and tax payers of the West Branch Valley, but signed, on the contrary by 6,460 petitioners, petitioning in this wise:

"To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We, the undersigned sportsmen, taxpayers and voters residing in the valley of the Susquehanna, vigorously protest against the fish license or any charge for fishing in the State waters as proposed by a certain bill or bills now before your honorable bodies."

Gentlemen, this petition is not a protest against the payment of $1.10 for the sake of saving $1.10, but it is a protest against the enactment of a law which would summarily punish the small offender, and punish him severely, and permit the big offender to go free. These 6,460 taxpayers protest against the passage of a bill which would treat as criminal a catcher of one small fish without a license and allow the killer of thousands of fish to keep on with the killing without punishment. In the name of fairness I protest against the passage of this bill.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I arise at this time and with pleasure to speak for and in behalf of this bill of which I have the honor to be the sponsor, and I would like to have your very close attention; and I should also like to have every man who is opposed to this bill interrogate me and if he is fair I will guarantee that I can convince him. I speak from the position as a huntsman and fisherman, and being acquainted with conditions for a number of years in fishing and hunting I think I am familiar with what I am going to talk about. We believe that the fish of the waters and the birds of the air and fields belong to the people; in other words, they belong to the masses, but to you who have been taking your gun and your rods with you for the last few years, you have discovered a condition that immediately arouses resentment within you, to do something against the man or men or association of men who have gone out and acquired through laws or through outright purchase the privilege of hunting and fishing for themselves only. What I mean by that is this: that today it is a common sight to go from one end of a county to another, or, in fact, from one end of the Commonwealth to the other and find the best hunting grounds and fishing streams placarded stating, "No Hunting or Fishing or Trespassing Allowed." How are we going to overcome this condition? I say, that the State itself has been partly to blame. On the other hand, I believe that you may say that the people are to be blamed because we have left upon our statute books laws that it was possible for someone to get around and acquire land for their own personal benefits. For a number of years the Department of Fisheries has asked appropriations from the Appropriation Committee approximately amounting to about $400,000. At the last session of the Legislature they aplied for $425,000 and $210,000 were apropriated, leaving a deficiency of approximately $215,000. We have within the State of Pennsylvania today a total of six hatcheries; five of these hatcheries are not completed. I have been informed by the Commissioner of Fisheries that it will take in the neighborhood of $350,000 to complete the hatcheries. One thought I wish to impress upon you and that is this: If we had six more additional hatcheries within the State of Pennsylvania it would be possible to supply every applicant that sends in an aplication for fry. Today in the Department of Fisheries there are over 35,000 applications on file signed by the members of the Legislature and Senators asking that trout, bass, pike and the other kinds of fish be sent to where the applications come from. With this condition you can see that it is positively impossible for the Department of Fisheries to turn around and comply with the request. Naturally he comes in for a lot of censure. I have here a statement of a man giving the amount of fry that was placed in the waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during the year 1917, and it is astonishing when you think of the amount of fish — namely 244,716,830 for the year 1917. For the year 1918 the number will exceed over 400,000,000. For the information of the gentleman from Lycoming, I desire to read from the record that in Lycoming County in the year 1917 there was no less than 637,600 fish deposited in the waters. Yet it is a strong statement when I say it that when the State at large assumes the expense to place within the waters fish for the benefit of the man or the woman or the child that sees fit to go and take them from the water, that they should do so free of cost.

I am of this opinion, that if I desire to go out in the streams and fish for the pleasure that is to be gotten from the same, I ought to be willing to pay a fair pro rata share of the expense that is necessary to propogate the fish.

There is another statement that I desire to make at this time, and that is this If we can succeed in passing this measure, you will save for the State of Pennsylvania, at least for this session, $225,000.00 if not $250,000.00, and that in itself could be given to some charitable institution or to the Teachers' Fund.

Gentlemen, I ask you earnestly to consider this measure and, if it is possible for you to do so, vote for its passage.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne (Mr. Powell).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne (Mr. Powell) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lycoming (Mr. Harer) will proceed.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he has any idea what percentage of these fish that are propagated are trout or what percentage other fish?

Mr. POWELL. I could not answer off the record, Mr. Speaker. They are given in round numbers.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, that is all, thank you. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I think that the only objection coming from the people of Lycoming County that ask us to object to this bill comes from the fact that so many of the food fishes in our main stream, the Susquehanna, were killed by the pollution that has been going on. I think the most of the men here will admit that it is the sportsmen who mostly fish for trout. This proposed law will also impose this license on the man who takes his family out for a day's outing. Perhaps they take a pole or two and some lines and all wish to fish a little, but they cannot do so unless they have paid this license, and if they are going to fish they expect to catch some fish. Our streams at the present time do not have any fish in them to speak of, most of them having been killed last year, and so it is not much use to pay a license for something that you are not going to get. If the people up there have assurances that they are going to be able to catch some fish and that the fish will not be killed by someone else, I think they will be heartily in favor of this license, and I do not think there would be any question about this license. It is simply a fact that the fish have been killed by the thousands by the pollutions of corporations, and nobody has paid for them; whereas, if a man goes out and catches a few fish, it may cost him a hundred dollars or more, while at the same time a corporation can kill millions of fish and not pay a cent therefor. I say, if they have any assurances that this will be stopped, their objections will be stopped and they will gladly pay the one dollar license fee.

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, I have come into contact with a great number of fishermen, and they have desired to make known to me and that I should make known to this House that they are not in favor of a fisherman's license. They deem it unfair and unjust and burdensome to them to be called upon to pay a dollar of license when perhaps they will fish only once or twice during an entire season. They want to take their children sometimes, and their families, out along the streams for a day's outing and sport, and by this measure they will be unable to do so unless they pay a license tax. They have asked me to represent to you that they do not wish this tax to be imposed, and I have brought here tonight about two thousand names of fishermen and others interested in the sport, protesting against this thing. Besides that, I have here before me resolutions from the Snyder County Fish and Game Protective Association, and they are protesting against the enactment of this bill into a law. Just a moment ago there was handed to me a petition containing about three hundred and eighty names which were signed up during the last day or two in the city of Pittston, and the people of that city who have subscribed to this petition are urging this body to vote against the fishermen's license.

On the ground of these petitions, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on the ground of the fundamental right that we ought to have as citizens of this State to go out on the streams of the State and fish when we want to on the grounds of the fact that these streams have been constantly the people's property, because it differs from the sport of hunting in that the hunter must go on somebody else's land and must be armed with destructive weapons—on all these grounds, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask you to vote "No" and against this fishermen's license tax.

Mr. HELT. Very briefly, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: The fishermen of Northumberland county would gladly pay a dollar for a fish license if they were reasonably assured that the intent of this bill would be followed out, namely, the propogation of fish in the streams of Northumberland county. Briefly, we can only use the majority of the streams in our neighborhood for ink. Therefore, we kindly ask you to vote down this bill until the streams are made possible for the propogation of fish.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, the gentlemen who have just preceded me have touched upon the vital points necessary for the adoption of this bill, namely these: How can you expect to take your wife and family and children out on the streams, as Brother Woodruff has said, to go fishing if there are no fish there to get? Without any money, without any revenue, how is the Fish Commissioner going to supply the streams with fish if not given sufficient money to do so. On page 864 of your Legislative Journal today you will find where the Department of Fisheries is asking for $538,400 in appropriations. Where are you going to get that money to give them? They want to give you fish. We have got to take the words of the man whom we put into office, the man whom the Governor has seen fit to appoint and whose appointment the Senate has seen fit to approve as the man capable of doing this if you give him the money to do it with. Gentlemen you are asking that the streams be stocked with fish and you are asking that stream pollution be stopped. One member said that this pollution came from the paper mills and of course, they would be against it if we asked to have the pollutions of the streams stopped. I don't wonder, gentlemen, that we are getting petitions asking us not to pass this bill because refuse and acids have been dumped into the streams from time immemorial and killed the fish; but there is all the more reason for furnishing the money for wardens and watchers. Therefore, I say give the Fish Commissioner this money and let us see if we cannot stop the pollution of streams and give the people of the State the fish that belong to them.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. Speaker, I come from a district where there are many trout streams followed by the people of the State, and the people have formed an organization and are all in favor of this bill and have been advocating such a bill for many years. The work of stocking does not fall on the few people but the State through the Department of Fisheries. This is a good bill and we need the money to stock the streams and furnish the wardens to guard the streams. We now have only ten fish wardens in the whole State, which is a very insufficient number, and it is doubtful if we can do much better than we are doing now unless we raise money for the purpose.

Mr. BUNGARD. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. As it appears that all gentlemen who so desire have spoken on the question, the Clerk will call the roll.

On the question recurring
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR COCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 7, 1919.

Whereas, The Fifteenth Engineer Regiment was among the first units of the army of the United States to land in France and has been in active service continuously since that time, a period of almost two years; and

Whereas, The Fifteenth Engineer Regiment has rendered most notable service for the cause of the United States and its allies; and

Whereas, The mothers, fathers, wives and children of the boys constituting the Fifteenth Engineer Regiment, while willing to make any sacrifice that is necessary to secure a lasting peace to the world and to the institutions of these United States, they feel, nevertheless, that the Fifteenth Engineer Regiment, so long in the service is deserving of relief and having served the longest should be the first to come home; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That the Senate of Pennsylvania herewith requests the Secretary of War for the United States, and the Commander-In-Chief of the American armies in France to immediate designate the Fifteenth Engineer Regiment for return to the United States and demobolization; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be transmitted to the Secretary of War and to General Pershing for their immediate consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 986, as follows:

An Act providing for the establishment of Auxiliary State Game Preserves

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter whenever the owner or owners or the person in control of suitable lands of a total of not less than two hundred and fifty acres nor more than four thousand acres shall desire to have said lands set apart as a city of refuge for game and wild birds they shall petition the Board of Game Commissioners of this Commonwealth declaring their desires and setting forth in said petition the location of said lands with a description thereof

Section 2 The petition of those desiring to have created an Auxiliary State Game Preserve in any part of this Commonwealth shall state clearly that the owner or owners or persons in control of such lands are willing to vest in the Commonwealth all right to hunt upon said lands either without charge or remuneration or for such rental as may be agreed upon between them and the Board of Game Commissioners for the use of such property that they the contracting party or parties of the first part agree that neither they their families their agents their tenants nor any other persons shall hunt thereon by and with their authority and that they will make every effort to protect said preserve from hunting and from violations of any nature The petition shall also set forth that all agreements therein shall continue in force for an uninterrupted period of not less than ten years and such longer period as may be desired by the petitioners and shall be indorsed by at least fifty qualified electors of the county wherein said lands may be located and shall be presented to said Board for their consideration and approval

Section 3 If upon investigation said Board is satisfied that such lands are suitable for the purpose mentioned and shall decide that the establishment of said Auxiliary State Game Preserve is advisable they shall thereupon enter into an agreement in the form of a lease with those in control of such property and shall declare said lands or any part thereof an Auxiliary Game Preserve They shall cause said lands so designated as an Auxiliary State Game Preserve to be surrounded by a single wire as a marker if same is not already surrounded by a suitable enclosure They shall cause to be posted notices not more than one hundred and fifty yards apart along the border of such Auxiliary State Game Preserve Such notices shall bear at the head the words "Auxiliary State Game Preserve" followed by a plain statement that it is unlawful to trespass upon said lands at any time or to hunt thereon except for vermin under and by the written permission of the Board of Game Commissioners No Auxiliary State Game Preserve shall be established within a radius of five miles from a State Game Preserve or another Auxiliary State Game Preserve

Section 4 The Board of Game Commissioners is hereby empowered and authorized to formulate and have posted rules and regulations regarding the protection and preservation of game birds and game animals and song and insectivorous birds on such Auxiliary State Game Preserve as to them may appear best suited to secure the desired results and such rules and regulations so formulated and published by posters by said Board as herein provided for shall be the law of this Commonwealth controlling such Auxiliary State Game Preserves

Section 5 The Board shall cause notice of their action declaring lands to be an Auxiliary State Game Preserve to be advertised for at least one time each week for three consecutive weeks in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the county wherein sail Auxiliary State Game Preserve may be located and shall also have a suitable notice published for at least two consecutive months in not less than two sportsmen's journals if there be so many published monthly in the State

Section 6 The said Auxiliary State Game Preserve shall thereupon be deemed to be a public State Game Preserve All violations of all rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Game Commissioners to control Auxiliary State Game Preserves shall be punishable under the same laws rules and regulations and the same penalties be imposed for similar offenses as now apply or shall hereafter apply to State Game Preserves

Section 7 The act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twenty-six) entitled "An Act providing for the establishment of Auxiliary State Game Preserves" and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed Provided however that the repeal of any act of Assembly relating to game preserves shall not affect any prosecution pending at the date of the passage of this act nor prevent the institution of any prosecutions for violations of any act committed prior to the passage of this act but all such violations shall be prosecuted in the same manner and under the same authority and with like effect as prior to the passage of this act Provided also that any Auxiliary State Game Preserve created under the provisions of said act of May twenty-ninth one thousand nine hundred and seventeen shall continue under the provisions of this act in like manner and with the same effect as though created under the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 992, as follows:

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seventy-three) entitled "An Act to provide for the better protection and preservation of deer and elk squirrels and certain birds classed as game birds within the Commonwealth providing a method through which certain lands in the Commonwealth may be closed to hunting for a term of years and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two of an act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seventy-three) entitled "An Act to provide for the better protection and preservation of deer and elk squirrels and certain birds classed as game birds within the Commonwealth providing a method through which certain lands in the Commonwealth may be closed to hunting for a term of years and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions" which reads as follows

"Section 2 That whenever at least two hundred citizens of any county in this Commonwealth shall through written petition certify to the Board of Game Commissioners that in their opinion an absolutely closed season is necessary to insure the better protection and consequent increase of elk and deer and squirrels of all kinds and wild turkeys and ruffed grouse and quail and ring necked pheasant and Hungarian quail or either of them in a wild state in that county in which such citizens may reside and asking that such county be closed to hunting for a period the Board of Game Commissioners shall forward to said petitioners and others a blank form setting forth such questions as they may consider best suited to determine the quantity of game and game conditions in the county in question and the necessity for closing said county to hunting which said forms with replies to entitle such answer to consideration before said Board of Game Commissioners shall be returned to said board on or before the return day as fixed upon said forms Such petitioners shall also publish for at least three consecutive weeks at their own expense in at least two prominent newspapers in the county to be closed the statement that such petition has been filed with its purpose and the return day for information as fixed by the Board of Game Commissioners and shall file with said board duly certified copies of such notices as published in each newspaper on or before said return day If the written answers as returned shall fail to satisfy said Board of Game Commissioners that such closed season is necessary or those opposing such action shall demand a hearing before said board then a hearing shall be had upon such date and at such place within the county to be affected as may be decided upon by the said Board of Game Commissioners the expense of such hearing to be paid by those demanding the same If after the receipt of the written answers or the public hearing or both the Board of Game Commissioners shall be satisfied such closed season is necessary to insure the better protection of elk and deer squirrels of all kinds and wild turkeys and ruffed-grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasants and Hungarian quail found in a wild state and their consequent increase in said county they are herewith empowered and directed to declare a closed season not to exceed five years for elk and deer and wild turkeys and ruffed-grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasants and Hungarian quail or either of them found in a wild state within said county

The Board of Game Commissioners to make such closed season effective and binding shall be required to publish annually their decision and action regarding this matter in at least three newspapers if there be that many in each county affected thereby and to have notices of such ruling declaring such county closed to hunting printed and annually distributed in reasonable numbers throughout the affected territory

Each and every person violating any of the provisions of such ruling made by the Board of Game Commissioners under the requirements of this act shall be liable to a penalty of three hundred dollars for each elk and two hundred dollars for each deer and twenty-five dollars for each squirrel or bird taken killed wounded or attempted to be taken killed or wounded upon said closed territory" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 That whenever at least two hundred citizens of any county in this Commonwealth shall through written petition certify to the Board of Game Commissioners that in their opinion an absolutely closed season is necessary to insure the better protection and consequent increase of elk and deer and squirrels of all kinds and wild-turkeys and ruffed-grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasant and Hungarian quail or either of them in a wild state in that county in which such citizens may reside and asking that such county be closed to hunting for a period the Board of Game Commissioners shall forward to said petitioners and others a blank form setting forth such petitions as they may consider best suited to determine the quantity of game and game conditions in the county in question and the necessity for closing said county to hunting which said forms with replies to entitle such answer to consideration before said Board of Game Commissioners shall have attached thereto the name address and resident hunter's license number for the previous year of each signer to the original petition and shall be returned to said board on or before the return day as fixed upon said forms Such petitioners shall also publish for at least three consecutive weeks at their own expense in at least two prominent newspapers in the county to be closed and in at least one sportsmen's magazine published within the Commonwealth the statement that such petition has been filed with its purpose and the return day for information as fixed by the Board of Game Commissioners and shall file with said board duly certified copies of such notices as published in each newspaper on or before said return day If the written answers as returned shall fail to satisfy said Board of Game Commissioners that such closed season is necessary or those opposing such action shall demand a hearing before said board then a hearing shall be had upon such date and at such place within the county to be affected as may be decided upon by the said Board of Game Commissioners the expense of such hearing to be paid by those demanding the same If after the receipt of the written answers or the public hearing or both the Board of Game Commissioners shall be satisfied such closed season is necessary to insure the better protection of elk and deer squirrels of all kinds and wild-turkeys and ruffed-grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasants and Hungarian quail found in a wild state and their consequent increase in said county they are herewith empowered and directed to declare a closed season not to exceed five years for elk and deer and wild-turkeys and ruffed-grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasants and Hungarian quail or either of them found in a wild state within said county

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 16, entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five (Pamphlet Laws twenty-nine), entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of natural gas companies" extending the duration of certain charters and providing a procedure therefor.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 41, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand twenty-four) entitled "An Act to protect the public health and welfare by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others by prescribing penalties for violations thereof by defining the procedure in prosecutions and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof" by providing that the term "establishment" shall not include nor shall the act apply to summer boarding house during certain months.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I feel that I shall have to vote no on this bill and I would like to state why. I was a member of the sub-committee which was trying to amend the bill to please everybody and we were not able to do it. I then went to the Commissioner of Labor and asked him if it was a boarding house bill. He said that after the first of July every hotel would be a boarding house, and there would be no sale of liquor. I would like to exempt the little boarding houses, but I am not in favor of the exemption applying to the large hotels. The Commissioner of Labor was not able to tell the difference. I will be obliged to vote no on this bill. I have been interested in the so-called social legislation for a great many years and I am, therefor, very much interested in this bill and feel that the women who are employed in the large hotels, whether winter or summer, deserve the protection afforded them by the legislation of 1913.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, Yes sir.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. President I would like to ask the Senator if he did not in the sub-committee recommend with the rest, this amendment not only as satisfactory, but recommended that it should go through.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, Yes.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. President, I submit that if he did afterwards recommend it to the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and the Commissioner of Labor and Industry made certain statesments, that after a certain length of time this would be inoperative, or rather be operative upon all the hotels as well as the others, and that there should be no undue advantage taken in the bill, then he has taken an undue advantage over us.

Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, I desire to say that my thoughts of any bill passing here is this; that it is passed with the ultimate object of doing the highest and best good to the greatest number of people and it should be given a trial to try it out, and if on the trial of the bill you find it works injury to any certain number of people or to any certain class of people then an amendment should be offered to it. This we did to the bill in question and we took up the matter carefully and conscientiously and we did not interfer one bit with the original intent or purpose of the bill. It was not intended to apply to the boarding house business. We have tried to get some concessions from the Department of Labor and Industry and we can not. Our men have come here repeatedly and asked that something be done and everytime we have asked we have been turned away with some subterfuge or other. It seems to me in a case of this kind, when our business is practically destroyed, under the present interpretation of the law, we ought to be entitled to some consideration in the matter. We cannot go ahead and do business under the present law without protecting our people. Many of our people are Quakers and they are a class of people who do not like to be considered as law breakers and I ask you give this thing favorable consideration for three reasons. I would take a little more stock in the opposition if they had only gone ahead and sent a representative up into that part of the country to find out the existing conditions, but all we have seen is a deluge of telegrams and letters coming here asking the Senators all to vote against this bill, giving no reason whatever, putting us in the place where we have to get up and defend it as best we can, and I submit to you that in the passage of the bill you should give us a reason why it ought not to receive any consideration. It is farthest from my thoughts to oppose any kind of reconstructive legislation, or progressive legislation, or to interfer in any way with the workings of political societies, or anything of that kind, but at the same time it is my thought that the least offensive business that is in existance today to be pitched on in this manner and crowded out of business is not the original intent of this law. I think that the opposition should have tried to learn the true facts in the case. We have had delegation after delegation come down here and our affairs clearly and specifically and we come to you with clean hands and ask for assistance that we may go on and do business, just the same as the rest of you. The gentlemen, who is in opposition to this bill this morning has a bill for the revision of the Charter of Philadelphia, which is to do certain things to the government of that city so that it will be more effective. I have not read the bill, but I assume that is the idea. That does not put those people out of business, but with our bill, we are put out of business under the present construction of it. We just simply are helpless and we come to you in our helpless condition and we ask of you that you do not destroy the original intent of the bill, but that you give us little amendment to the bill, which will not do that, and which will help us to go on and do business, which we think we have a right to do.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the only thing I would say to this; I regret exceedingly to oppose Senator Barnes on this bill, because I would like very much to have him vote for the Charter Bill when it comes before the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 78, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the taking and appropriation of land and property by incorporated cemetery and burial associations not for profit for the purpose of enlarging cemeteries and burial grounds

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. J. S. MILLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the title by inserting after the words "An Act" the following: "declaring incorporated cemetery and burial associations to be public service companies; and;" also section 1, page 1, line 3, by inserting after the word "that" the following: "incorporated cemetery and burial associations organized under the laws of this Commonwealth are hereby declared to be public service companies and subject in all respects to the laws of the Commonwealth regulating public service companies."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the author of this bill?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mearkle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, what is the purpose, or the necessity for the additional employes in the office of the censor of moving picture films in the City of Pittsburgh?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. President, under the present act we have two inspectors in the City of Pittsburgh. The purpose of this act is to create a deputy inspector to facilitate the inspection or the censorship of motion picture films. We have in the City of Pittsburgh, and in Allegheny County, probably as many motion picture houses as there are in any county in the State of Pennsylvania. All of the films that are censored are censored in the east, in Philadelphia, and the censorship must come from Philadelphia to our motion picture houses. Many times the motion picture house has advertised for some two or three or four weeks that a certain picture will be put on the screen, only to find out that the censored film has not been received by the exchange in time to be put in the picture houses, the present inspector not having the authority to pass on the picture. The present act is for the purpose of getting a deputy inspector in Pittsburgh, to facilitate the business. It does not take away anything from the censor board, it simply adds to it, and it only adds one additional man. At the present time we have two inspectors and we are asking for a deputy inspector.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I have read over this bill and I can see no reason why the duties of this department of the government should be further divided and a branch office placed in the City of Pittsburgh. The Governor of this Commonwealth has very forcibly said that he believes in the centralization of the offices in this State. As I understand I believe that there is only one place in Pennsylvania of any size where moving pictures are made, the other films sent into this State are manufactured elsewhere.

There is no reason why a film that is to be displayed in the city of Pittsburgh, or any other city in the State, should be approved in that particular city. There is no reason why the censorship in the city of Philadelphia should not meet with the approval of the city of Pittsburgh. If the city of Pittsburgh is to have pictures censored that are to be exhibited there the city of Erie, Williamsport and every other city in this State can demand a deputy censor. This department of the government should be under a concrete head, should be under one board that should meet together to censor. These pictures will be divided into many groups and what may meet with the approval of the deputies of Pittsburgh may not meet with the approval of the deputy of Philadelphia, Harrisburg, or some other city, and I can see no reason why Allegheny, with her great desire for these innumerable offices, these many increases in salaries, should foist upon the State of Pennsylvania, a deputy moving picture inspector who should censor pictures for Allegheny county alone. It is another attempt to create additional offices that are unnecessary in this State. The moving picture board as we now have it, is thoroughly capable in every way to censor all the pictures that are exhibited in the moving picture houses of Pennsylvania. It is an unnecessary office; it is an unnecessary expense. It is a division of government a separation of the burdens under this office and I say to you, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, that this bill should be voted down, as the moving picture censorship should be confined to one board and one head and not separated for innumerable deputies and innumerable offices in order that they should be placed around in various portions of the State. I therefor ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, the statement made by the author of the bill possibly was not clear. Pittsburgh which includes Allegheny County, has but two persons connected with the moving picture show houses in our locality, one inspector and one only. The proviso in this bill asks for a deputy and two inspectors. The purpose is not to censor pictures, the pictures will be censored and controlled as they are now controlled, by the state organization in the city of Philadelphia. Occasions occur quite frequently where pictures before they are thrown upon the screen their popularity is unknown. Immediate demands are made from other picture houses ranging from twenty-five to fifty. The pictures can not be furnished by the office in Pittsburgh, because they have no authority, it has to go back again for recensorship, and during the war period men who created the picture houses which we have in Pittsburgh who have large investments in the proposition of moving pictures, and a great number of houses, some of the best theatres for that purpose that there are in the country, were delayed in having pictures recensored, for periods covering two or three weeks. Now that is not general and it will not be so great a length of time in the future, because our transportation facilities are better than they were when our railroads were crowded with the pressure of war materials. This simply provides that this deputy in the performance of her duties, or he, who ever it may be, at the present time it happens to be a young lady,—is given the right to pass upon the additional number of films that are to be issued, and will pass upon what should be produced in the community, without the retransportation or recensorship of that particular picture, and the additional inspectors are absolutely and positively required. You all know, that there were violations of this act upon the statute book, and records will show that in proportion to the amount of business this particular special agent of Pittsburgh has been the means of checking up and prosecuting more moving picture shows than any other section in the state. It is not done other than for a further protection, not only of the moving picture show business, but a further protection of those who have their money invested in our community. We are not asking you to move anything out of Philadelphia, we are asking that those who have their money invested in the moving picture business in the western part of the state get fair treatment, and that they be accorded the same treatment in the method of doing business as are the people who are fortunate enough to be close to the censorship. We are not here for the purpose of letting officials take money out of the treasury, we are here to try to build up business in the western part of Pennsylvania, just the same as it should be built up by the people in the eastern part.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, if I understand the Senator from Philadelphia the original print is censored first by the moving picture censor of Philadelphia and additional prints made up of that same film are to be censored if they are not marked with the approval when they are censored by the original censor.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, when the order leaves the Pittsburgh office it designates the number that are to be issued and that order cannot be exceeded, and if you require an additional number you have to send the picture back again to be recensored. That is what we are going to try to correct.

The interest of the deputy in Pittsburgh is as great as the interest of the censor in Philadelphia and after all that he has authority to protect the interest of the people, and when he is asked for an additional ten copies or fifty copies he can authorize them without sending them back to the city of Philadelphia to be recensored. That is all this bill calls for.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I say to the gentlemen of the Senate that this is not a proper bill for this reason: if it is necessary after the original print has been approved or disapproved by the censors of Pennsylvania a special requisition must be made for exact copies from that censored print, then the present law should be corrected. If a certain moving picture film is approved by the censors of Pennsylvania then there is no reason why any man in Pittsburgh, Erie or any other place in Pennsylvania should make a personal requisition for that film; if it is approved it should be shown everywhere in Pennsylvania under that approval, and you should not require additional requisitions, and if any person perchance will add to a film that has been censored and approved then he will be amenable to the law under the original approval required by that bill. This is an unnecessary act. If there is such a condition existing the original act should be amended to meet it. Therefore, I say this act should be defeated.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, I would like to say that the Governor has ordered the Moving Picture Censors to be moved from Philadelphia to Harrisburg, and that will take place on the first of next month. I have no interest, either directly or indirectly, either for or against this bill, but hereafter all the Philadelphia pictures will be censored here in Harrisburg.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I wish to correct one impression; the word deputy carries authority, and that is the requirement of this act, to have a deputy who will have the authority to issue additional certificates for additional films.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,
The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with.
The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 630 (House Bill No. 725), entitled:

An Act permitting wholesale or retail dealers brewers distillers rectifiers compounders bottlers agents or other persons licensed to deal in or sell any vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors to surrender licenses heretofore granted and issued authorizing county treasurers to refund a proportionate amount of the annual license fee and additional license tax, requiring the State Treasurer and the municipalities to contribute to the amount so refunded and making an appropriation.

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any wholesale or retail dealer brewer distiller rectifier compounder bottler agent or other person licensed under the laws of this Commonwalth to deal in or sell at wholesale or retail any vinuous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof who has heretofore paid at or before the time the license was issued the full annual license fee and the additional license tax for the year for which such license was granted may at any time during such year surrender such license to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions out of which the license issued and thereupon the county treasurer who collected such license fee and additional license tax shall refund and pay to the licensee a proportionate amount of such license fee and tax The amount of the license fee and additional license tax to be refunded shall be based upon the unexpired portion of the year for which such license was granted.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, I move to amend section 1, page 2, line 7, by striking out all of said section after the word "thereupon" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Such licensee shall be entitled to receive from the county the municipality and the Commonwealth as a refund for such surrendered license a portion of such license fee and additional tax based upon the unexpired portion of the year for which such license was granted."

Mr. S. J. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?
It was agreed to.
The second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 Upon the return of any such license fee and additional license tax to the licensee as herein provided the county treasurer shall notify the State Treasurer and the municipality to whom a part of such license fee has been paid that the licensee has surrendered his license and that the proper proportion of the annual license fee and additional license tax was refunded according to the provisions of this act and shall request the State Treasurer and such municipality to return and pay into the county treasury their respective portions of such fee and tax so refunded to the licensee It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer and such municipality on receipt of such notice and request to return to the county treasurer such proportionate amount of the license fee and tax received by the State and municipality as may be necessary to reimburse the county for any moneys refunded to the licensee.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, I move to amend section 2 by striking out all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Whenever any such license is surrendered the county treasurer shall notify the Auditor General the State Treasurer and the municipality to whom a part of such license fee and additional tax has been paid that the licensee has surrendered his license and that the proper proportion of the annual license fee and the additional license tax shall be refunded accordingly to the provisions of this act, and shall request the Auditor General ,the State Treasurer and such municipality to return and pay into the county treasury their respective of such fee and tax so to be refunded to the licensee It shall be the duty of the Auditor General the State Treasurer and such municipality on receipt of such notice to return to the county treasurer such proportionate amount of the license fee and additional tax as may be necessary to reimburse the county treasurer for the moneys to be refunded to the licensee."

Mr. S. J. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, I move to amend section 3 by striking out all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The annual license fee and additional license taxes paid into the State Treasury before the passage of this act by the county treasurers of the several counties or so much thereof as may be necessary are hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose of refunding such license fees and additional taxes. Payments shall be made from said appropriation to the several county treasurers upon warrant of the Auditor General on the State Treasurer in the usual manner."

Mr. S. J. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?
It was agreed to.

The third section of the bill was read as follows

Section 3 The annual license fees and additional license taxes paid into the State Treasury before the passage of this act by the county treasurer of any county or such part thereof as may be necessary are hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose of reimbursing any county for any moneys paid out of its treasury under the provisions of this act.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, I move to amend the bill by adding thereto the following section

"Section 4. Upon receipt of any such license fees and additional taxes from the Commonwealth and the municipality the county treasurer shall refund the same together with a portion of such license fee which remained in the county treasury to the licensee entitled to receive the same, and shall take his receipt therefor which shall be a sufficient voucher to save harmless the county treasurer for the payments made in accordance with the provisions of this act."

Mr. S. J. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

An Act permitting wholesale or retail dealers brewers distillers rectifiers compounders bottlers agents or other persons licensed to deal in or sell any vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors to surrender licenses heretofore granted and issued authorizing county treasurers to refund a proportionate amount of the annual license fee and additional license tax, requiring the State Treasurer and the municipalities to contribute to the amount so refunded and making an appropriation.

MEMORIAL SERVICES ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE WILLIAM WALLACE SMITH, LATE SENATOR FROM THE EIGHTH DISTRICT.

The Senate met at 2.30 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Clarence J. Buckman) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. This being the time fixed by the resolution for holding the memorial services on the death of Honorable William Wallace Smith, late Senator from the Eighth District, the Senate will be in order and will be opened with prayer by the Chaplain.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, this charming afternoon has been set apart by the Senate of Pennsylvania to pay a well-deserved tribute of respect to the memory of our beloved colleague and friend, Senator William Wallace Smith.

In every walk of life his presence brought cheer and fellowship. He was broad-minded, generous, and kind-hearted. Always loyal to his friends and merciful to his opponents.

The brotherhood spirit of his liberal life was manifested in the large number of Fraternal and Social organizations to which he belonged, and in which he performed an active part. The stamp of his approval was placed upon every form of life, in church, business, politics, society, or athletics, if it was fair, broad, and clean. He was always brotherly and always loyal to American traditions and ideals.

We pray that the memory of his generous life may be a source of comport and consolation to his mother, his widow, his daughter, and other dear relatives; and an inspiration to his colleagues of this Senate and his countless other friends.

These favors we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE WILLIAM WALLACE SMITH LATE SENATOR FROM THE EIGHTH DISTRICT.

Mr. DAIX offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, Almighty God in His wisdom removed from among us on August 27, 1917, our friend and associate, the Honorable William Wallace Smith, Senator from the Eighth Senatorial District of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, the late Senator Smith endeared himself to the Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania by his sterling qualities as a man and by his kind and genial temperament, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby records its high estimate of our late associate as a citizen, legislator and a man;

Resolved, That in the death of Senator Smith, the City of Philadelphia has lost one of its most honored and substantial citizens, the Senate of Pennsylvania a faithful and most efficient member, the public welfare an earnest advocate and we, his associates, an affable companion and a warm and sympathizing friend;

Resolved, That we tender to his family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in the great loss they have sustained;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, signed by the President and attested by the clerk be sent to the family of the deceased.

AUGUST F. DAIX, Jr.,
EDWIN H. VARE,
DAVID MARTIN,
JOHN G. HOMSHER,
T. LARRY EYRE,
SAMUEL W. SALUS,
EDWARD W. PATTON,
GEORGE W. SASSAMAN,
Committee.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, and members of the Senate: As the sponsor of the resolutions just read, it becomes my duty to address you on this occasion. One month ago we held memorial services in this Chamber for a fellow member, and only a few days ago we journeyed to the City of Wilkes-Barre in this State, to pay that homage which is due a brother member of the Senate who has passed on. It was during that ride to Wilkes-Barre, as the train slowly wended its way along the banks of the old dreamy Susquehanna river, that a member of the Senate, placing his hand upon my shoulder, said, "Senator Daix, too often. Oh! too often, are we taking these trips." His words too true. And looking backward, as we stop and pause, one can hardly realize how many have answered the last call. Today, on the threshold of Spring, while all the world around us smiles to the awaking of a glorious Springtime, we meet once again with bowed heads, to testify by our presence, the love and esteem we had for him whose memorial service we are now holding, William Wallace Smith. Born in that old Quaker City of Ours, on April 5, 1871, the son of an illustrious father, having in him that Scotch tenacity, and sterling honesty which was his characteristic trait all through life. Educated in the public schools and a graduate from the Nazareth Hill Academy in 1887. A successful man in all business enterprises, and in the game of sports, always on the level. Enlisted in the National Guard when only seventeen years old for those patriotic reasons not only to defend his State and Nation, but the love he had for the Stars and Stripes. His advancement in every walk of life was due to his own efforts, which he only attained by hard work, and by his personal magnetism, and the love he had for his fellow man. A warm grasp of the hand, and a smile always greeted you. One could well apply the words of the poem:

"The thing that goes the farthest
In this World of Ours,
That costs the least
And does the most,
Is just a pleasant smile."

Only too well, do I recall that August afternoon in 1917, when you and I, the members of this General Assembly, bid him our last "Good-bye." He was asleep amidst a bank of roses, every rose in its way representing some friend, who desired to convey by the messenger of God's own work, his love for the man, whose genial and happy ways, made him dear to every one. With eyes uplifted, we leave him with the Master, William Wallace Smith, asleep in the arms of Jesus.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, gentlemen of the Senate: It is indeed a privilege to stand here and pay my humble tribute to our late colleague, Senator William Wallace Smith. He was probably better known and more widely known than most any man in our home city. He was loved by everyone who knew him, and by many of those who only knew of him. He was charitable and kind, a loving father and husband, and an all-around thorough, good, clean, fine, up-standing, honest man, and if God had spared him just one year longer, in all probably he would now be City Treasurer of our city, for the reason that the same Republicans who were interested in the present City Treasurer only got interested after the sickness and death of our friend, the late Senator Smith. He was not only loved by those who knew him in a business way and a political way, but was loved by those who took part with him in athletics, side by side. He was a great fancier of the American baseball game, and soon got to be one of the umpires of the leading league in this country. He was well known and favorably known as a business man. As I said before, he probably had more friends than most any other man in our city. In the words of Mark Twain, we can all well say and truly say, "here lies a man."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, and members of the Senate: Rising at this time to address this body in reference to the qualities of our late departed Senator, it seems to me as though there has been placed in my charge at this time a duty that it is difficult for me to fulfill, because I lack vocabulary. I crave for speech at this time in order that I might properly picture this big hearted, big souled, kindly citizen of our community to those who did not know him. To those that knew him, no word of mine, no thought of mine, no expression of mine is necessary. They knew him as "Big Bill." "Big Bill," in the ordinary sense of the word, might mean nothing to the average man, but "Big Bill," referring to our Senator of the Eighth Senatorial District of Pennsylvania, meant much. It meant that within the confines of that name was built all that is manly, all that was courageous, all that was human; because he was a big man, not only in character, but a big man in his social, in his political, in his everyday life. His kindness was known by all who came in contact with him. There never was and there never will be a man in our public life who gathered around him so many friends as did William Wallace Smith. He was a commoner, he was a man reared in our public schools, received a public school education. He was not a man who craved political preferment; he did not even desire political preferment; and at a time when the various factions in the political district which he represented were torn asunder by factional discord some one suggested the name of William Wallace Smith as a man who could bring together all the disturbing elements. Like wildfire it spread in the district, and against his will and against his wishes, with the vote of all the parties, he came to this Senate. He took an interest in public affairs, but was not desirous of being considered a public official, being a business man. I have heard, and no doubt you gentlemen have heard, the statement that the evil that men do lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones. Those may have been the sentiments in the days of Mark Anthony and Julius Caesar; they are not the sentiments of the people of this time in this American continent of ours. In the every day strife of the American people and in their ambitions to achieve success they oft times pass a man by and say things which in their hearts they do not mean, but on the last day, on the day when counting counts, our American people, I believe, forget the little evils in life and are only too willing to speak of the good that men do. In William Wallace Smith, what ever the sentiments of the people may be in this community, they can speak of no evil, for he left no evil behind him. All that he ever did was good and good to all men, women and children and in that American fairness, all people must, no matter how they felt, speak well of him. I believe that when Leigh Hunt wrote those famous words that he had before him the vision of some such character as William Wallace Smith when the wrote the poem entitled "Abou Ben Adhem," and I will try in my way to repeat those words if I can:

Abou Ben Adhem (may his tribe increase)
Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace
And saw within the moonlight in his room
Making it rich and like a lily in bloom
An angel writing in a book of gold
Exceeding peace had made Ben Adhem bold
And to the presence in his room, he said
What writest thou? The Vision raised his head
And with a liik of sweet accord
Answered, The name of those who love the Lord
And is mine one, said Abou, nay not so
Replied the angel. Abou spoke more low,
But cheerily still, and said, I pray thee then
Write me as one who loves his fellow men
The angel wrote and vanished, the next night
He came again with a great awakening light
And showed the names whom the love of God Bless'd
And lo, Ben Adhem lead all the rest.

And so with William Wallace Smith, in his love for his fellowman in our community, he has led all the rest. We know not what the Master's hand has directed, but we, the members of the Senate send this greeting to you, our heart, our soul, our wishes, are all with you "Big Bill," all with you.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President I knew Senator Smith only as a member of the Senate, and therefor I can speak of him entirely inencumbered by any other associations than as one stranger meets another. It is a rare quality of character that can, under such conditions at once impress itself favorably, and this quality Senator Smith had in a far more than ordinary degree. So marked was he in this respect that he drew people toward him by the sheer force of his happy personality. It could not have emanated from anything else than his pure goodness of heart and unselfishness. On one occasion soon after I first knew him he came to me and offered his help in a measure in which I was interested. I attended his funeral and all my impressions of him were borne out by the greatness of the assemblage of the people who knew him best and the general expressions of sadness at his taking away. And I did not want to leave this occasion pass without expressing my appreciation for this friendship to me and the regard I had for him.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 8, 1919.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplin, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou infinite and holy one, who hast always given unto us men in the time of need, and given unto us leaders capable of bringing us to safe issues in every crisis of our nation, Thou who hast given unto us those who have led in times of conflict, grant unto us that we may be able to handle with satisfaction in Thy sight and for this nation the great problems that still remain to be settled. We beseech Thee that Thy goodness may rest upon those who shall represent us in this great Peace Conference that means so much for coming generations, not only of America, but of the entire world; and may that peace be in harmony with the Prince of Peace, and may it not be a scrap of paper nor a paper of scraps; but may it be that which shall be enduring, binding, helpful and blessed for all mankind; and since the air and spirit of men is full of war, calling upon everything that arouses suspicion and jealousy and hatred, may the hearts of the nation be laid at rest, so that the peaceful pursuits of the people may be resumed and the peaceful fruits be ours, that we may build up a durable nation, blest of Thee and of usefulness to all mankind. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterdays proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. J. T. Evans, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. DILSHEIMER called up from page 11 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 704, file folio, 2219.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from postponed calendar by Mr. Dilsheimer,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 704, entitled

An Act relating to the funeral expenses of indigent members of certain societies requiring the societies to pay such expenses in certain cases and authorizing the deduction of the amount thereof from the sum due to the beneficiary

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAM T. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, the object of this bill is no doubt commendable, but it strives to do something here which is not provided for in the act itself. There are thousands of certificates of protection issued in this State as well as in others. The law of the State which provides for the organization of these societies expressly states that the death benefits shall be paid to the families, heirs, blood relatives, affianced husband or affianced wife, or to persons dependent upon the members, and to relations which this bill radically disturbs. Here are persons dependent upon the members. That means that no creditor can come in and demand deduction of any amount before the payment to the benificiary. Many men insure their lives in these organizations for protection to their families, and these beneficiaries are specifically mentioned therein and the law protects them. No creditor can come in between the organization and any such beneficiary. If this act is to provide for the payment of costs of burial it must necessarily amend the existing act. This is not provided for in this bill. It seems to me, therefore, that while the object is commendable the method of procedure is hardly in accordance with the law. For that reason the bill ought to be voted down.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker. The only object I have in introducing this bill is to protect members who belong to fraternal or beneficial organizations in order that when they die and leave no other asset but their insurance policy, there may be some fund to bury them. For instance, I will speak of an experience which I have had last fall. During the epidemic an organization of which I am secretary, called the Beneficiary Union, with the main office in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, had this experience: This organization has business in about fourteen different states throughout the United States with a membership of about 60,000. A few of our members from our district died. The beneficiaries in these two policies—the first one had parents whose residence was in Hungary; the other one had a beneficiary of the deceased, a brother, living in Oklahoma. After both of these members died I, as the secretary of the lodge, saw that these members were buried so that they would not be buried in the paupers field by the County of Philadelphia. I found out that they had no relations in Philadelphia. Naturally, I could not communicate in the time I had with the parents in Hungary. In the second case, I telegraphed to Oklahoma to the address I had of a brother, which I found in the deceased brother's effects; to which I never received an answer. I finally made funeral arrangements and had both of them buried and the funeral expenses are not paid to-day. The brother in Oklahoma put in a claim and finally engaged a lawyer and demanded his benefits from the home office, and the office tells me that I will have to pay him under the present law. Here is a case where a man never paid one cent premium towards his insurance and he was obligated morally to give his deceased brother who died in Philadelphia a burial. Now then, here he comes after he would not take any responsibility whatever and wants the society or myself, personally, to pay the funeral expenses and get the benefits himself. It is the same way with the other case where the parents live in Hungary. The consul from Hungary says, "What do we have to do with a burial of the deceased? That is up to you. What we want is the money." Any man joining an organization, joins it first, principally, so that in case anything happens to him that he gets a decent burial, and so that the city or county does not have to bury him as a pauper in the pauper's field. This is a human bill. The gentleman from Philadelphia takes it as a business proposition as to the insurance. We are here to do justice to each other and I believe that it is not more than right that this bill should be enacted to protect each and every member so that he gets a decent burial if anything happens to him, and I ask you gentlemen to support this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BENCHOFF. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the bill that is now before the House, 854, was given full and due consideration by the Committee of Education before it was reported out, having been held in that Committee for sometime. If there is any objection to the bill, let it be discussed on the floor of the House in the regular way, and voted upon. Recommitting it to the Committee on Education will avail nothing. It will not change the bill, but will leave it just as it is. I therefore ask the House to vote down the motion to recommit the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced the "nays' appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and fifteen gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and one hundred and twenty-five in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, to my mind one of the cardinal points to consider in determining whether or not legislation should pass this House.—I say, one of the cardinal points to consider, to keep in mind, is the question of the good business principals involved in the bill. We have a duty to perform here, gentlemen, which in a sense is a trust. We are sent here by our people and we have been called upon to represent them. In the consideration of these measures, in determining whether or not a bill should or should not pass, to my mind we should consider the benefit that is to be derived from these bills. If the bill under consideration is to benefit the greatest number of people, then we should support it. If the bill does not have these meritorious qualifications, then we should vote against it. The bill presented this morning, which we are now considering, is in a sense an amendment to the Act of Assembly passed May 18, 1911, P. L. 309, known as the "Pennsylvania School Code." Section 101 provides that "each city, incorporated town, borough or township in this Commonwealth, now existing or hereafter created, shall constitute a separate school district, to be designated and known as 'School District of .....' and the several school districts thus established shall be, and hereby are, divided into four classes, as follows:—"

Section 102 provides, that each school district having a population of five hundred thousand, or more, shall be a school district of the first class. Section 103 provides, that each school district having a population of thirty thousand, or more, but of less than five hundred thousand, shall be a school district of the second class. Section 104 provides, that each school district having a population of five thousand, or more, but of less than thirty thousand, shall be a school district of the third class. Section 105 provides, that each school district having a population of less than five thousand, shall be a school district of the fourth class. This part of the act provides for the classification only. Section 1414 provides, that every child having a legal residence in this Commonwealth, as herein provided, between the ages of eight and sixteen years, is required to attend a day school in which the common English branches provided for in this act are taught.

He must attend this school. This action provides for an exception in the case of children attending private schools.

Now then, this brings us up to a place in this Act of Assembly which provides for the attendance. Section 1432 of the School Code provides as follows. I will ask you especially to note this provision. "The board of school directors of every school district in this Commonwealth of the first, second, or third class, shall, and in any school district of the fourth class may, employ one or more persons to be known as attendant officers, whose duties shall be to enforce the provisions of this act regarding compulsory attendance." This section also provides, and is authority, that "such attendance officers shall, in addition to the duties imposed upon them by the provisions of this act, have full police power without warrant, and may arrest or apprehend any child who fails to attend school in compliance with the provisions of this act, or who is incorrigible, insubordinate, or disorderly during attendance at school or on his way to or from school.' Now, gentlemen, you will notice that under the provisions of this act we have four classifications, first, second, third, and fourth. The act provides that children must attend school. Then it provides that in classes one, two and three the districts must provide a truant officer. This is not discretionary with the board. This takes in all districts of over five thousand in population. In districts under this number they may appoint one if they need one. They appoint them if they do not need them as a general thing. This Act of Assembly, gentlemen, provides that in addition to this each county representing three or four classes shall appoint a county attendance officer. It provides that he shall receive a salary of not less than one hundred dollars, which means one hundred and fifty dollars, two hundred dollars, or two hundred and fifty dollars a month; and it provides he shall be equipped with an office—

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Beaver (Mr. Marshall) a question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Are you willing to suspend if the sponsor of this bill moves to place it on the postponed calendar for the present?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This measure in regard to being postponed was before the House a few minutes ago, and the members almost unanimously voted in favor of considering the bill at this time.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I asked the question because I understand the sponsor desires to make a motion to place the bill on the postponed calendar.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has answered the question.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I did not understand the question as originally asked. If the sponsor desires to place the bill on the postponed calendar, I have no objection.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that the sponsor of the bill is willing to have it placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver (Mr. Marshall) has the floor.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I yield.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 1, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have approved and signed a Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 181, file folio 1823, for the purpose of amendment.

WM. C. SPROUL.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, lines 3, 4 and 5, by striking out the words "other than within the limits of incorporated boroughs and municipalities."

Amend the bill on page 2 by striking out all of section two.

Amend section 3, page 2, line 27, by striking out the figure "3" and inserting in lieu thereof "2."

Amend section 4, page 3, line 16, by striking out the figure "4" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "3."

Amend section 6, pages 3 and 4, by striking out said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following

"Section 5. The owner of any land through which any public road or highway may be relocated as provided for in the provisions of this act may apply by petition to the court of quarter sessions of the proper county setting forth the injury which he or she may have sustained by reason of the relocation of the said public road or highway and the proceedings relative to the assessment and payment of damages to the said land owner shall be in accordance with the provisions of the existing general road laws."

Amend section 7, page 4, line 3, by striking out the figure "7" and inserting in lieu thereof "6"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objections? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The next bill on the calendar, House Bill No. 423, file folio 2567, is not on the files and will be passed over for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 350, entitled

An Act authorizing the appointment of a commission to inquire into the causes and results of industrial accidents and to study advanced methods for safeguarding against the same.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 308, entitled

An Act to amend section ten of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred and fifteen) entitled "An Act to revise amend and consolidate the law relating to fish and providing penalties"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: There can be no mistake as to the purpose of this bill. It is to legalize fishing on Sunday. The law prohibiting fishing on Sunday has been on our statute books, in my judgment, too many years to now be repealed. I shall vote against this bill, and hope it will be defeated.

Moved by Mr. Ramsey, seconded by Mr. Donnelley, that the vote by which House Bill No. 116, file folio 2385, entitled

An Act for the better protection of fish, requiring citizens of the United States residing within and without this Commonwealth to procure a license to fish or angle in the waters of this Commonwealth or in the waters bounding or adjacent thereto and regulating the issuance of such license providing penalties for the violation of this act and the manner of proceeding to enforce compliance therewith and providing for the disposition of the penalties recovered and license fees received was defeated on final passage April 7, be reconsidered.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move you that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

NAYS—1.

McVicar,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 146, entitled

An Act to amend section two hundred and thirty-five of an act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An Act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of the House to the fact that on March 11, under House Bill No. 56, we passed a bill indentical with this except that the minimum charge was two dollars instead of a dollar and a half as fixed in this bill. It seems to me we ought not to pass this bill in the face of the one already passed, which makes the minimum charge half a dollar more than this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—56.

Aron,	Finney,	Levis,	Shunk,

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 872, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of mine inspectors in this Commonwealth and the expenses incident to the office.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 850, entitled

An Act to amend sections three and five of an act approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-six), entitled "An Act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities, and all county or other public employes, if any, paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof, and out of the treasury of said cities; and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" as amended, giving credit to employes of such cities for time in the service of the Commonwealth; fixing the contributions of such employes; and permitting employes leaving the employ of the city to continue as contributors in order to become beneficiaries of said fund.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain its purposes.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, in the session of 1915, the General Assembly passed an act providing for a retirement system for the employes of cities of the first class. Now, this bill is a proposed amendment to that act, applying only to employes of the City of Philadelphia, but with this addition, that the employes of the City of Philadelphia who enter the employ of the State, or those who are in the employ of the State, and then enter the employ of the City of Philadelphia, may come within the provisions of this act and obtain the benefits under the act of 1915. The act of 1915 provided for a retirement system that employes, having arrived at the age of sixty years, might be retired upon half pay, but not to exceed in any event the sum of twelve hundred dollars a year. This pension, I might say, costs the State nothing. The fund is raised entirely from contribution by the employes of one per cent each month of their salaries. The city also makes a contribution toward this fund.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, as the sponsor of this municipal pension act in 1915, I regret that I must oppose this piece of legislation. The act of 1915 was created after three months of hard labor, with the assistance of certain attorneys in Philadelphia, for the purpose of creating a municipal pension for that city. Previous to that, an employe who had served twenty years or more, and reached the age of sixty, if his services were no longer required, he was thrown out in the world, and the only place for him to go was the poorhouse. My thought at that time was to try and help some unfortunate man who had reached the age of sixty years, that he might have something when he resigned or was discharged from service, to relieve him in those years of his life after that service. The municipal service act was presented to this House and passed. That act says that any county or city employe of the City of Philadelphia, who has served twenty years, and who has reached the age of sixty, shall be retired under this municipal pension act. The employes contribute one per cent of their salaries towards this fund, and I am proud to say that from the time the act went into effect, up to the present time, it has been one of the most successful municipal pension acts ever created, not only in the State of Pennsylvania, but throughout the entire country, and we have had requests from various municipalities all over this country of ours for copies of the act, so that they could put it in force in those municipalities throughout the country. Now at the present time there is on that municipal pension list 9,970 employes, each one contributing one per cent of his salary. They had in the treasury of this fund, December 31, 1918, $332,390.00, and while there is a provision in the act that if any deficiency might occur in this fund the city shall contribute its proportion to meet the deficiency, yet at the present time the city has not contributed one penny toward this fund. We have on the list two hundred and two retired employes, who have reached the age of sixty, and who are now reaping the benefits of this fund. I say that if you pass this act—which probably will be unconstitutional—you are opening the doors for some State employe who has served fifteen years in the State, to come to the city of Philadelphia, get a position, and inside of three or five years, if he has reached the age of sixty, get the benefits of this pension fund to which he has not contributed a penny. I was informed two weeks ago on Market Street in this city, that there was another lobbyist here who was going to amend this act and take in the national government employes in the post office, and I hope and plead with you to vote down this act. Do not open the doors to put it out of existance. The Board of Pensioners, created by the act, sent to all of you last week, a circular that it was opposed to this measure, or to any amendments to the act. The act is this measure, or to any amendments to the act. The act is supported by the one per cent contribution to the fund by the employes and they have over three hundred thousand dollars now in the treasury. Do not open the doors to take in State employes, or national employes, who may only serve three or four years and then be retired on half pay by the City of Philadelphia. I ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I have only a word to say in answer to the argument of the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Dunn), and that is this, that if this pension as established in Philadelphia at the present time is on a good, sound financial basis with regard to the employes as they were existing at the time this act went into effect, and if they then permitted employes to come within the act, those who were at that time perhaps eighteen or twenty years in the service, and allowed them to be beneficiaries under this act, and still believe it was on a sound financial basis, I cannot see any reason why it should not continue so under the proposed amendment. It merely contemplates including in the pensions those in the state employ and coming into the city employ, or vice versa. They must contribute the same amount or quota as the city employes have done heretofore; and I cannot understand if it was financially sound before why it would not be financially sound under the proposed amendment.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, the only reason it is on a sound financial basis is that it had to be put on a sound basis at the start; and while some only paid in for two or three years before they became beneficiaries, every employe had to pay one per cent. of his wages, and the result has been very successful. I say if you open the doors for people from the state and national government to come in, you are going to swamp it and put the employe in the same condition as they were before the municipal act went into effect.

NAYS—1.

Dilsheimer,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1125, entitled

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws eighty-six) entitled "An Act fixing the salary of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and of the Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction" fixing the salary of the superintendent of Public instruction for all services required to be performed by law

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BENCHOFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BENCHOFF. What is the salary of the present Superintendent of Public Instruction?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, his salary and other emoluments for the positions he holds amount to about seven thousand five hundred or eight thousand dollars.

Mr. BENCHOFF. How long has that salary been in existence?

Mr. RAMSEY. I am not able to say, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BENCHOFF. Just recently, or just about two years, I think. The salary proposed by this bill is ten thousand dollars, is it not?

Mr. RAMSEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. Speaker, this bill is one that has been prepared by His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, in order that he might procure as the head of the public school system of Pennsylvania the best available timber that is possible, and under this bill the Superintendent of Public Instruction must perform all the duties now imposed upon him without any additional salary.

An Act to authorize empower and enable any person having a right of action against two or more persons or corporations arising out of injury or death caused by the negligence of said two or more persons or corporations to bring separate suits or actions at law against each and all of the parties or corporations liable or responsible for said injury or death"

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentlemen permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DITHRICH. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WONER. I am not clear as to the purpose of the bill and would ask an explanation.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, the practice has always been that where there was an accident or injury resulting in death, in a case where there was joint negligence of one or more persons, you could elect to sue jointly or you could sue each individual separately, but could recover only one judgment. That has been the practice up to the decision of the Supreme Court in 225 Pa., in the case of Betcher vs. McChesney, where the court held that you must elect which of the parties you would proceed against, and you were confined to that action alone. This restores the practice that formerly existed whereby a person had the choice to sue jointly or to sue separately, could sue both, but he could have but one recovery.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 78, as follows

An Act declaring incorporated cemetery and burial associations to be public service companies and providing for and regulating the taking and appropriation of land and property by incorporated cemetery and burial associations not for profit for the purpose of enlarging cemeteries and burial grounds

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That incorporated cemetery and burial associations organized under the laws of this Commonwealth are hereby declared to be public service companies and subject in all respects to the laws of the Commonwealth regulating public service companies it shall be lawful for any incorporated cemetery or burial association not for profit to acquire land for the purpose of enlarging any cemetery or burial ground of such association and for such purpose such cemetery or burial association is authorized to enter upon and to appropriate any private land or property adjacent to such cemetery or burial ground

No cemetery or burial association shall exercise the right of eminent domain as against any land or property situate within any borough or city without the consent of such borough or city nor as against any land occupied by and used as a dwelling house nor shall any public highway be vacated in the exercise of the right of eminent domain herein conferred

Section 2 In all cases where the parties cannot agree upon the amount of damages to be paid for such taking or where by reason of the absence or legal incapacity of the owner no such agreement can be made the cemetery or burial association may tender a bond with sufficient security to the party entitled to damages or to the agent or attorney of any person absent or to the agent or officer of a corporation or to the guardian or committee of any one under legal capacity

The condition of the bond shall be that the cemetery or burial association shall pay or cause to be paid such amount of damages as the party shall be entitled to receive after the same shall have been agreed upon by the parties or associations in the manner provided for in this act In case the party claiming damages refuses to accept the security tendered the cemetery or burial association shall give the party or his agent attorney guardian or committee a notice of the time when such bond will be presented in court

When approved by court as to the amount thereof and as to the character of the security the bond shall be filed in court for the benefit of those interested and recovery may be had thereon for the amount of damages assessed Upon the approval of the bond the cemetery or burial association shall have a right to enter upon and take possession of such land or property

Section 3 In case the compensation for the damages accruing from such taking and appropriation have not been agreed upon the court of common pleas of the proper county or any law judge thereof in vacation on application thereto by petition of the cemetery or burial associations or any party interested shall appoint three viewers and appoint a time not less than twenty nor more than thirty days thereafter when the viewers shall meet upon the land and property and view the same

The viewers may be appointed before or after entry and appropriation of such land or proprty The viewers shall give at least ten days notice of their first meeting in such manner as the court shall direct

Section 4 The viewers having been sworn or affirmed faithfully justly and impartially to decide and a true report to make concerning all matters to be submitted to them and in relation to which they are authorized to inquire and having viewed the land and property shall hear all parties interested and their witnesses and shall determine the damages for the land and property taken and appropriated.

The viewers shall make report to court showing the damages assessed for such taking and appropriation and shall file therewith a plan showing the land and property taken and appropriated

Section 5 When the report is filed notice thereof shall immediately be given in such manner as the court shall direct to all parties interested Such notice shall state the date of the filing of the report and shall state that unless executions thereto be filed within thirty days or an appeal therefrom within said time be taken the report will be confirmed

Section 6 When the report is filed the prothonotary shall mark the same "confirmed nisi" In case no exceptions thereto are filed or no appeal is taken therefrom he shall enter a decree confirming th report absolutely

Section 7 Within thirty days after the filing of any report any party interested may file exceptions to the same and the court shall confirm modify or change such report or the amount of damages made therein or refer the report back to the same or new viewers

Section 8 Within thirty days after any report of viewers is filed in court any party interested may appeal to the court of common pleas of the proper county and demand a jury trial Such appeal shall state the grounds upon which it is taken and shall be signed by the appellant of by his agent or attorney and shall be accompanied by an affidavit that it is not taken for the purpose of delay but because the appellant believes that an injustice has been done

Upon the trial of any such appeal in case the party appellant does not obtain a verdict more favorable than was the report of the viewers the appellant shall not recover any costs

The court of common pleas shall order what costs shall be given in connection with any such appeal and may by rule or otherwise prescribe the form of pleadings

Section 9 Within six months after the confirmation of any report by the court of common pleas or after verdict and final judgment in a jury trial either party may appeal to the Superior or Supreme Court

Section 10 All assessments for damages shall bear interest at the expiration of thirty days after they shall have been finally ascertained

Section 11 Each viewers shall be entitled to receive five dollars ($5.00) for each day actually employed in the discharge of his duty and mileage at the rate of six cents per mile necessarily traveled which shall be paid by the cemetery or burial association

Section 12 All acts or parts of act inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

REQUEST TO HAVE BILL GO OVER IN ITS ORDER.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 532 on final passage, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Governor to appoint volunteer police officers providing for the organization and direction of such police officers defining their powers and duties imposing certain charges upon the State and counties for the expenses thereof go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I object. This is a bill of vast importance to the State of Pennsylvania, to put into effect the proposed Council of Welfare that is proposed by the State Administration and it is important, in my judgment, that this bill should be passed as speedily as possible, in order that the House may get through with it at an early date.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 532, as follows:

Section 17 Every foreign society now doing business or applying for admission of this Commonwealth shall by a duly executed instrument filed in the office of the Insurance Commissioner constitute and appoint the Insurance Commissioner or his successors its true and lawful attorney upon whom all lawful processes in any action of legal proceedings against it may be served and therein shall agree that any lawful process against it which may be served upon him as its said attorney shall be of the same force and validity as if served on the society and that the authority thereof shall continue in force irrevocable so long as any liability of the society remains outstanding in this Commonwealth The service of such process shall be made by leaving copies of the same in duplicate in the hands or office of the Commissioner One copy of such instrument certified by the commissioner or his deputy as having been served upon him shall be deemed valid service upon the society Provided however That no such service shall be valid or binding against any such society when it is required thereunder to file its answer pleading or defense in less than thirty days from the date of mailing the copy of such service to such society

When legal process is served upon the commissioner as attorney for foreign society he shall forthwith forward one of the duplicate copies of process served on him to its secretary or corresponding officer or to such other person as may have been previously designated by the society by written notice filed in the office of the commissioner As a condition of valid and effective services and of the duty of the commissioner in the premises the plaintiff in each process shall pay to the commissioner at the time of service thereof the sum of two dollars which the said plaintiff shall recover as taxable costs if he prevails in the suit. The commissioner shall keep a record of all such processes which shall show the day and hour of service Legal process shall not be served upon any such society except in the manner provided herein

Section 18 Any domestic society may provide that the meeting of its legislative or governing body may be held in any State district province or territory where in such society has subordinate branches and all business transacted at such meetings shall be as valid in all respects as if such meetings were held in this Commonwealth but its principal office shall be located in this Commonwealth

Section 19 Officers and members of the supreme grand or any subordinate body of any such incorporated society shall not be individually liable for the payment of any disability or death benefit provided for in the laws and agreements of such society but the same shall be payable only out of the funds of such society and in the manner provided by its laws

Section 20 The constitution and laws of the society may provide that no subordinate body nor any of its subordinate officers or members shall have the power or authority to waive any of the provisions thereof and the same shall be binding on the society and each and every member thereof and on all beneficiaries of members

Section 21 No money or other benefit charity or relief or aid to be paid provided or rendered by any such society shall be liable to attachment garnishment or other process or be seized taken appropriated or applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law to pay any debt or liability of a member or beneficary or any other person who may have a right thereunder either before or after payment

Section 22 Every society transacting business under this act shall file with the Insurance Commissioner a duly certified copy of all amendments or additions to its constitution and laws within ninety days after the enactment of the same Printed copies of the constitution and laws as amended changed or added to certified by the secretary or corresponding officer thereof shall be prima facie evidence of the legal adoption thereof

Section 23 Every society transacting business in this Commonwealth shall annually on or before the first day of March file with the Insurance Commissioner in such form as he may require a statement under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers of its condition and standing on the thirty-first day of December last preceding and of its transactions for the year ending on that date and shall also furnish such other information as the Commissioner may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working The Commissioner may at other times require any further statement he may deem necessary to be made relating to such society

In addition to the annual report herein required each society shall report annually to the Commissioner a valuation of its certificates in force on December thirty-first last preceding excluding those issued within the year for which the report is filed in cases where the contributions for the first year in whole or in part are used for current mortality and expenses provided the first report of valuation shall be made as of December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen Such report of valuation shall show as contingent liabilities the present mid-year values of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such society under certificates then subject to valuation and as contingent assets the mid-year value of the future net contributions provided in the constitution and laws as the same are in practice actually collected not including therein any value for the right to make extra assessment Provided That any excess of the present value of future contributions over the present value of promised benefits under certificates providing for disability benefits (other than total permanent disablity in combination with death benefits) shall not be allowed in reduction of the liability under other forms of certificates At the option of any society in lieu of the above the valuation may show the net value of the certificates subject to valuation hereinbefore provided and said net value when computed in case of monthly contributions may be the mean of the terminal values for the end of the preceding and of the current insurance years

Such valuation shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary or at the request and expense of the society verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the home State of the society and shall be filed with the Insurance Commissioner within ninety days after the submission of the last preceding annual report The legal minimum standard of valuation for all certificates except for disability benefits shall be the National Fraternal Congress table of mortality as adopted by the National Fraternal Congress August twenty-three one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine or at the option of the society any higher table or it may use a table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with interest assumption not more than four per centum per annum each such valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation Any society providing for disability benefits shall keep the net contribution for such benefits in a fund separate and apart from all other benefit and expense funds and the valuation of all other business of the society provided that where a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent total disability benefits the valuation shall be according to tables of reliable experience and in such case a separation of the funds shall not be required

The valuation herein provided for shall not be considered or regarded as a test of the financial solvency of the society except as provided in section twenty-three but each society shall be held to be legally solvent so long as the funds in its possession are equal to or in excess of its natural liabilities

Beginning with the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen a report of such valuation and an explanation of the facts concerning the condition of the society thereby disclosed shall be printed and mailed to each beneficiary member of the society not later than June first of each year or in lieu thereof such report of valuation and showing of the society's condition as thereby disclosed may be published in the society's official paper and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficiary member of the society The laws of such society shall provide that if the stated periodical contributions of the members are insufficient to pay all matured death and disability claims in full and to provide for the creation and maintenance of the funds required by its laws or found necessary otherwise additional contributions or additional increased or extra rates of contribution shall be collected from the members to meet such deficiency and such laws may provide that upon the written application or consent of the member his certificate may be charged with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by valuation with interest not exceeding five per centum per annum

Section 23a If the valuation of the certificates as hereinbefore provided on December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen shall show that the present value of future net contributions together with the admitted assets is less than the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities such society shall thereafter maintain said financial condition at each succeeding triennial valuation in respect of the degree of deficiency as shown in the valuation as of December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen If at any succeeding triennial valuation such society shall not show at least the same condition the Commissioner shall direct that it thereafter comply with the requirements herein specified If the next succeeding triennial valuation after the receipt of such notice shall show that the society has failed to maintain the said condition required herein the Commissioner may in the absence of good cause shown for such failure institute proceedings for the dissolution of such society in accordance with the provision of section twenty-four of this act or in the case of a foreign society its license may be cancelled in the manner provided in this act

Any such society shown by any triennial valuation subsequent to December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen not to have maintained the condition herein provided shall within two years thereafter make such improvement as to show a percentage of deficiency not greater than as of December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen or thereafter as to all new members admitted be subject so far as stated rates of contributions are concerned to be provisions of section twelve of this application in the organization of new societies provided that the net mortuary or beneficiary contributions and funds of such new members shall be kept separate and apart from the other funds of the society If such required improvement is not shown by the succeeding triennial valuation then the said new members may be placed in a separate class and their certificates valued in respect to contributions and funds as an independent society

Section 23b In lieu of the requirements of sections twenty-three and twenty-three (a) any society may accept in its laws the following provisions and may value its certificates on a basis herein designated "accumulation basis" by crediting each member with the net amount contributed for each year and with interest at approximately the net rate earned and by charging him with his share of the losses for each year herein designated "cost of insurance" and carrying the balance if any to his credit The charge for the cost insurance may be according to the actual experience of the society applied to a table of mortality recognized by the law of this Commonwealth and shall take into consideration the amount at risk during each year which shall be the amount payable at death less the credit to the member Except as specifically provided in its articles or laws or contracts no charge shall be carried forward from the first valuation hereunder against any member for any past share of losses exceeding the contributions and credit If after the first valuation any members share of losses for any year exceeds his credit including the contribution for the year the contribution shall be increased to cover his share of the losses Any such excess share of losses chargeable to any member may be paid out of a fund or contributions especially created or required for such purpose

Any member may transfer to any plan adopted by the society with net rates on which tabular reserves are maintained and on such transfer shall be entitled to make such application of his credit as provided in the laws of the society

Certificate issued rerated or readjusted on a basis providing for adequate rates with adequate reserves to mature such certificates upon assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the laws of this Commonwealth may be valued on such basis herein designated the "tabular basis" provided that if on the first valuation under this section a deficiency in reserve shall be shown for any such certificate the same shall be valued on the accumulation basis

Whenever in any society having members upon the tabular basis and upon the accumulation basis the total of all costs of insurance provided for any year shall be insufficient to meet the actual death and disability losses for the year the deficiency shall be met for the year from the available funds after setting aside all credits in the reserve or from increased contributions or by an increase in the number of assessments applied to the society as a whole or to classes of members as may be specified in its laws Savings from a lower amount of death losses may be returned in like manner as may be specified in its laws

If the laws of the society so provide the assets representing the reserves of any separate class of members may be carried separately for such class as if in an independent society and the required reserve accumulation of such class so set apart shall not thereafter be mingled with the assets of other classes of the society

A table showing the credits to individual members for each age and year of entry and showing opposite each credit the tabular reserve required on the whole life or other plan of insurance specified in the contract according to assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this Commonwealth and adopted by the society shall be filed by the society with each annual report and also be furnished to each member before July first of each year

In lieu of the aforesaid statement there may be furnished to each member within the same time a statement giving the credit for such member and giving the tabular reserve and level rate required for a transfer carrying out the plan of insurance specified in the contract No table or statement need be made or furnished where the reserves are maintained on the tabular basis

For this purpose individual bookkeeping accounts for each member shall not be required and all calculations may be made by actuarial methods

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the maintenance of such surplus over and above the credits on the accumulation basis and the reserves on the tabular basis as any society may provide by or pursuant to its laws nor be construed as giving to the individual member any right or claim to any such reserve or credit other than the manner as expressed in the contract and its laws nor as making any such reserve or credits a liability in determining the legal solvency of the society

Section 24 The Insurance Commissioner or any deputy examiner or other person he may appoint shall have the power of visitation and examination into the affairs of any domestic society He may employe assistants for the purpose of such examination and he or any person he may appoint shall have free access to all the books papers and documents that relate to the business of the society and may summon and qualify as witnesses under oath and examine its officers agents and employes or other persons in relation to the affairs transactions and conditions of the society

Whenever after examination the Insurance Commissioner is satsfied that any domestic society has failed to comply with any provisions of this act or is exceeding its powers or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith or is transacting business fraudulently or whenever any domestic society after the existence of one year or more shall have a membership of less than four hundred (or shall determine to discontinue business) the Insurance Commissioner may present the facts relating thereto to the Attorney General who shall if he deem the circumstances warrant proceed in the manner prescribed by the act of June first nineteen hundred and eleven for the liquidation of insolvent or delinquent companies orders or associations transacting any class of insurance

No such proceedings shall be commenced by the Attorney General against any such society until after notice has been duly served on the chief executive officers of the society and a reasonable opportunity given to it on a date to be named in said notice to show cause why such proceedings should not be commenced

Section 25 No application for injunction against or proceedings for the dissolution of or the appointment of a receiver for any domestic society or branch thereof shall be entertained by any court of this Commonwealth unless the same is made by the Attorney General

WEDNESDAY, April 9, 1919.

The House met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou great master-builder who hast studded the heavens with Thy handiwork, grant unto us that we may humbly follow in Thy footsteps and that we may not despise, as has been the custom and tradition of the past, those who work. Rather help us to glory like him who said, "Hitherto my father worked and I work." In this world, which is a great workshop, may each and every one find a place to serve, whether it be with hand or with heart, with pencil or with brain, be it as it may. Help us to put the sovereign price on useful, honest work. Above all, we ask Thee that we may not have a false sense of dignity and consider those as unworthy who work with their hands, but grant unto us that we may fully understand and appreciate all that they do who labor. Thou hast made it a divine decree that the moisture of the brow must go with the toil of the hand. Grant, we pray Thee that we may honor that which Thou hast seen fit to decree. Therefore, may they have protection and enjoyment and may the dull drab be taken out of life; may they have their right and proper place in all consideration. May we never have the false contagion of a foolish aristocracy and may we know no other aristocracy than that of honest work. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Colville, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 932, as follows:

An Act supplementary to the Public Service Company Law approved the twenty-sixth day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen giving to the Public Service Commission the power in the elimination of grade crossings to the construction of bridges or viaducts over above and across railroads and railways and where necessary across rivers and streams and in order to affect said elimination to change the location to a new place or to another street or highway and where the said bridge or viaduct is located by the Commission and directed to be constructed in the line of any street or highway which crosses a navigable river or a stream which has been declared a public highway by act of Assembly at a point where the Commonwealth has been authorized to construct a public bridge to replace a county bridge destroyed by flood or other casualty to provide for the payment by the Commonwealth of part of the cost of said improvement from appropriations made to the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings the making of the contract and the expenditure of said appropriation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Public Service Commission of this Commonwealth in order to eliminate grade crossings may order and direct that a viaduct or bridge be constructed over above and across the several railroad tracks or lines and also where the same becomes necessary over above and across rivers and streams which it may be found necessary to cross in order to eliminate the said grade crossings and to change the location thereof to a new place or to another street or highway and to apportion the cost expense and maintenance thereof in the manner now provided by law

Section 2 That when any bridge or viaduct is directed to be constructed in the manner set forth in the preceding section and the same is located in the line of any public street or highway which crosses any navigable river or stream which has been declared a public highway by Act of Assembly across which a bridge has been or shall hereafter be authorized to be constructed at the expense of the Commonwealth to replace a county bridge destroyed by flood or other casualty it shall be lawful for the Public Service Commission to direct that a certain part or portion of the cost of constructing said bridge or viaduct shall be paid by the Commonwealth the said cost and expense however not to exceed what it would cost to construct that part of said bridge or viaduct which spans any such river or stream at the point where the said structure is being or is directed to be built by said Public Service Commission

Section 3 Any contract for the construction of said bridge shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings and the amount which the Commonwealth will be responsible to pay on the said contract shall be certified by the said board and attached to the contract

Section 4 The cost and expenses of the rebuilding or erection of any such bridge by the Commonwealth shall be paid from any appropriations made to the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings for the rebuilding of county bridges and shall be paid out in the manner set forth in the contract

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 891 (Senate Bill No. 269), as follows:

An Act to carry out the provisions of section eight article nine of the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania as amended and for that purpose prescribing the method of determining the amount which may be deducted in ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the city of Philadelphia by excluding from the calculation and deducting from its indebtedness so much of the debt of said city as shall have been incurred and the proceeds thereof invested in any public improvements of any character which shall be yielding to the said city an annual current net revenue

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever the city of Philadelphia shall have incurred any debt or debts for and the proceeds thereof shall have been invested in any public improvements of any character which shall be yielding to the said city an annual current net revenue the said city may at any time and from time to time present its petition to any of the courts of common pleas of the county in which such city is situated for the purpose of having determined the amount of its debt which may be deducted from its indebtedness in ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the said city as provided in section eight article nine of the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania as amended The said petition shall contain an enumeration of any public improvement or improvements yielding such annual current net revenue the amount of indebtedness which shall have been incurred for and the proceeds thereof invested in such public improvement or improvements the gross revenue from each of said improvements during the year immediately preceding the time of filing such petition and the average rate of interest and sinking fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city as to each of such improvements and it may at the option of the petitioner also contain a statement of the deductions deemed proper to be made from the gross revenue therefrom in order to ascertain the current net revenue from each improvement during the preceding year together with such details with regard to the said gross revenue and deductions therefrom as may be in the opinion of the petitioner necesary for making such computation as well as a calculation of the capitalization of such annual current net revenue at the average rate of interest and sinking fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by the said city for the purpose of the said public improvements and together with such other information as may be pertinent to the ends of the inquiry The petition hereinabove provided for shall be made and sworn or affirmed to by the mayor and shall be filed by the city solicitor having first been attested by the city controller and by the head of the department or other branch of the city government having the management of such improvements and by the chief of the bureau in immediate charge thereof as to the matters within their special knowledge or control respectively

Section 2. Upon the filing of the aforesaid petition the court in which it shall have been filed shall fix a date not less than three weeks nor more than five weeks thereafter for the making of an application pursuant to the prayer of said petition and notice of the filing thereof and of the date fixed for making such application shall be published by the mayor not less than once a week for three weeks in three daily newspapers of general circulation published in said city to be designated by the court and in the legal journal in which legal notices are regularly printed On or before the date so fixed all parties in interest including the taxpayers the owners or holders of bonds or other securities of said city or otherwise may appear in person or by attorney and file with the said court a verified answer to the aforesaid petition Upon the date so appointed for the making of such application or at such time thereafter as it or he may fix the said court or one of the judges thereof shall proceed forthwith to take the testimony of the parties so appearing and to hear argument thereon as in other cases at which taking of testimony and hearing of argument all parties shall be entitled to present evidence to be heard and to file briefs as the said judge or court may direct

Section 3 After hearing the allegations and proofs and the arguments thereon of the respective parties the court or the judge before whom such hearing is had shall render a decision stating how much of the debt of the said city shall have been incurred and the proceeds thereof invested in any public improvements of any character which shall be yielding to the said city an annual current net revenue how much of such debt shall have been so incurred and the proceeds thereof so invested in each of such public improvements the amount of the gross revenue and the net revenue from each such public improvement during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment with such particulars as shall show how the computation of the net revenue is made the average rate of interest and sinking fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by the said city for such improvement and the capitalization of the principal amount which would yield such annual current net revenue at the average rate of interest and sinking fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by the said city therefor and shall make an order fixing the total amount which for that reason the said city may exclude from the calculation and deduct from its debt in ascertaining its borrowing capacity Should such a hearing be before a judge of the said court exceptions to his findings and decision may be filed by any party in interest who shall have appeared as aforesaid within ten (10) days after such decision shall have been rendered and notice of said findings and decision shall have been given to all parties by the prothonotary of the court and the said exceptions shall be heard and disposed of by the court in banc in the same manner and subject to the same rules as govern the hearing of exceptions upon trials in equity If no exceptions be filed within ten (10) days to the findings and decision of such judge they shall be final and conclusive Upon the making of such order by the court or by a judge thereof if no exceptions be filed to his decision the amount so ascertained shall thereupon be wholly excluded in determining the power of such city to become otherwise indebted

Section 4 After the determination of the court of common pleas either upon exceptions as aforesaid or upon hearing by it in the first instance and after the order of the court for the purpose of giving effect thereto an appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth in the manner prescribed for other similar appeals but such appeal must be taken within twenty (20) days after the entry of the order and determination complained of security to be fixed by the court and entered as in other cases and all such appeals shall be heard by the Supreme Court in any district in which it may be in session but such determination and order of the court of common pleas shall not be subject to any other appeal or review or to collateral attack of any kind whatsoever but shall with respect to the validity of all municipal loans and in all other respects be final and conclusive and the proceeding herein provided for shall be the sole and exclusive method of determining the aforesaid matters relating to the amount of the debt of the city of Philadelphia which may be deducted from its indebtedness in ascertaining its borrowing capacity by reason of such debt having been incurred and the proceeds thereof invested in any public improvements of any character which shall be yielding to the said city an annual current net revenue

Section 5 The Act of Assembly approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act to prescribe the method by which shall be determined the amount of any debt theretofore incurred or thereafter to be incurred by any city of the first class for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes or for the construction of wharves and docks or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks as public improvements to be owned by such city which may be excluded in ascertaining the power of such city to increase its indebtedness pursuant to the provisions of article nine section eight of the Constitution as amended and to confer jurisdiction upon any of the courts of common pleas of the county in which such city is situated to determine the amount of any debt to be so excluded with an appeal to the Supreme Court within one month from the date of such determination" and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith or supplied hereby be and the same are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I would like to question the sponsor of this bill and ask who requests this hearing.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Goehring), permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I will. I will say, however, that I did not intend to request a hearing, but will move to postpone the bill.

Mr. STEEDLE. That is sufficient, Mr. Speaker. I want to accept the gentleman's kindness in having it postponed, probably owing to the fact of my absence. This bill has been on the calendar for almost the entire session. I do not wish to be discourteous to any man in this House, much less my colleague from Allegheny. I hope that this motion will not prevail, but let us go to the bat and decide its fate once and for all.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw the motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman withdraw his second to the motion?

Mr. GOEHRING. Yes, sir. Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Acting Chaplain, Rev. Harry E. Ulrich, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our God, Thou art great and greatly to be praised; Thou art infinite and eternal and incomparable in Thy being, wisdom, power, justice, goodness, mercy and truth. We thank Thee that Thou hast given to us enough of Thyself that we have desire to strive after better things. We pray for Thy guidance at all times, for the spirit of cooperation, that Thou will give to us the spirit of altruism that we may strive after and do the greatest good at all times to the greatest number. We pray, our Father, that Thou wilt give to us of the things that may meet our needs. Wilt Thou do for us exceedingly and abundantly above all that we may ask or think through the riches of grace in Christ Jesus our Lord. Amen.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. CROW,

That Rule 38 which requires nominations made by the Governor to be referred to proper committee be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into executive session, for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. CROW,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—45.

Baldwin, F. E.,	DeWitt,	Leslie,	Sassaman,
Baldwin, R. J.,	Donahue,	Marlow,	Schantz,

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that the executive session do now rise.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 355.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 18, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I am returning, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 355, entitled "An act to amend section ten of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled 'An act acreating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over prescribing his duties and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties.'"

This bill proposes to increase the limitation of the amount of public contracts which county commissioners must submit for approval to the county controller from $100 to $300. While the larger amount suggested is not a great sum, I can see no good reason why the approval of the official charged with safeguarding the county's fiscal affairs should not be obtained. It costs nothing to get the approval of the controller and as his office is in the court house there need be no delay in urgent cases. The office of county controller was created by the Legislature to put a check upon loose and careless methods of handling the business of the counties, and this bill would be a first effort toward nullifying the good effects of the controller's authority.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objection of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SASSAMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 96, on third reading, entitled:

An act to amend section one of an act approved the second day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws thirty-eight) entitled "An act authorizing the State Treasurer to endorse over to the Ladies Memorial Association of the City of Petersburg Virginia all checks drafts or warrants for interest accruing on a bond bought from the City of Petersburg Virginia by the Battlefield Commission of the Third Division Ninth Corps Army of the Potomac said interest being by contract made on file in the Auditor-General's Department due to said Ladies Memorial Association" providing for the retirement of the proceeds of such bond upon the maturity and the disposition of the income thereof go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 97, entitled:

An act regulating the disposition of assignments of error in appeals and other proceedings in error in the Supreme Court and the Superior Court of this Commonwealth in certain cases.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—47.

Baldwin, F. E.,	DeWitt,	Leslie,	Sassaman,
Baldwin, R. J.,	Donahue,	Marlow,	Schantz,
